

with the ages of all ships, show the United States leads the world in first line destroyer and submarine tonnage. They indicate these fighting ships rapidly are becoming obsolete.

"Naval Holiday" for U. S.

They disclose also that while the United States has been taking virtually a naval holiday in the construction of auxiliary craft, Great Britain and France have been laying down orderly programs of new submarines and destroyers each year.

Within less than seven years, if no new submarine and destroyers are built by the United States, the tables show Japan will outclass the United States in first line modern ships of these classes. If Japan laid down no more submarines than her present program calls for, she would have 32,000 tons of submarines in 1935, compared to 24,000 tons for the United States, and 39,000 for Great Britain.

At the end of seven years all of America's destroyer tonnage will be obsolete unless new ships of this class are built, as these vessels can be counted as first line for only sixteen years. All American destroyers were built during the last period, while Japan and Great Britain have built these classes steadily since the war.

Outstripped in New Building.

One of the tables of statistics gives striking illustration of the way the other signatories of the Washington limitations treaty have outstripped the United States in laying down new naval construction since the naval pact was signed in February, 1922. According to this table, Great Britain and France have been building new ships more than twice as fast as the United States.

Taking into consideration all classes of naval vessels from battleships and cruisers to tankers, the Wilbur table shows the following comparisons in numbers of ships laid down and appropriated for since Feb. 6, 1922:

United States, nineteen ships, total tonnage, 156,990; Great Britain, seventy-eight ships, total tonnage, 428,374; Japan, 127 ships, total tonnage, 415,532; France, 120 ships, total tonnage, 290,639; and Italy, 83 ships, total tonnage, 181,076.

Fighting Ship Comparison.

In the six most important classes of fighting ships—battleships, aircraft carriers, cruisers, mine layers, destroyers, and submarines—the following comparisons are shown:

United States, 13 ships; total tonnage, 154,600. Great Britain, 43 vessels, with a displacement of 234,138 tons. Japan, 104 vessels, with a tonnage of 398,323. France, 112 vessels, with a tonnage of 244,911, and Italy, 67 vessels, with a tonnage of 183,096.

Of the most important ships laid down by the United States two were aircraft carriers, eight were 10,000 ton, 8 inch gun cruisers, and three submarines.

Great Britain laid down two battleships, the most powerful in the world; two aircraft carriers, seven cruisers, one mine layer, twenty destroyers, and twenty-one submarines.

Japan laid down ships to strengthen her navy as follows: Two big aircraft carriers, sixteen cruisers, two mine layers, fifty-one destroyers, and thirty-three submarines.

DEMAND OUSTER OF STATE BOARD IN BUS BATTLE

Court Holds Northwest Side Permits Void.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The summary removal of the members of the Illinois commerce commission is to be asked of Governor Elton L. Emmerson as his first official act in a resolution to be presented to the city council on Saturday by Ald. Thomas J. Bowler (41st).

This is the first effect of a decision yesterday by Judge Otto Kerner holding that the state commerce commission acted illegally in assigning 34 miles of northwest side streets to the Chicago Motor Coach company for bus operation. Judge Kerner ruled that the order is invalid because it was entered without a hearing, without notice and without testimony.

The order was contested by the surface lines, which had applied for permission to establish feeder buses on these same streets. The city of Chicago and the Central Northwest Side Federation of Improvement Clubs also opposed the commission's action.

10 Cents Versus a 7 Cent Fare.

The motor coach company buses charge a 10 cent fare and give transfers to other buses. The surface lines propose a 7 cent fare and free transfers to all the street cars in the city. In addition they give the city 55 per cent of the net earnings.

Judge Kerner's decision says only that the commerce commission order giving the streets to the buses of the motor coach company is wrong. It does not substitute feeder buses for motor coach buses. James G. Condon, attorney for the motor coach company, declared that its buses will continue operation as heretofore, serving about 20,000 persons daily.

"We have the right of appeal," he explained. "In the meantime the buses will continue to operate."

Says Court Can Stop Coaches.

Harry P. Weber, attorney for the

FLIGHT OF MERCY

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Capt. "Wop" May and Vic Horner hopped off here at 11:45 p. m. today in an Avion plane to carry a supply of anti-toxin to Hudson's Bay company trading posts at Fort Vermilion and Little Red river in the far north. The weather was cold and fair.

The Kerner suspending the order of units of anti-toxin was ordered after receipt of an appeal for help from the trading posts. The message for help was started on Dec. 15 from Little Red river by dog team and brought to Peace river, a distance of 167 miles, from where it was relayed to Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of health, at Edmonton.

Capt. May is expected to reach Fort Vermilion, 600 miles away, tomorrow afternoon. Meanwhile, at least one death from diphtheria, that of A. Logan, factor in charge of the Hudson Bay company at Fort Vermilion, has occurred, and Dr. M. A. Hamman at the fort said indications were that all of the 200 persons at the two outposts were suffering from the disease.

surface lines, asserted, however, that the city could ask an order from Judge Kerner suspending the order of the commerce commission. This, if granted, would stop the motor coach buses, he said.

Corporation Counsel Etelson said he wished to read the Kerner opinion before indicating the city's intention.

"My program is decided on," commented Ald. Bowler, who has been leading the fight for feeder buses for several years. "I will present a resolution at the next council meeting calling for appointment of a committee to ask Governor Elton Emmerson to oust the Small commerce commission as soon as he is sworn in. The council meets on Saturday. The committee can go to Springfield on Sunday and see the governor the first thing on Monday morning.

"He can act with benefit to the state, even if he is not ready to appoint successors to the members of the commission. No commission would be better than this one. No matter whom his appoints later, they will probably be an improvement over this commission."

"Standing up for what the people of the northwest side want hasn't gotten me anywhere politically, but I will stick and go through with it. The ordinances providing for feeder buses were passed over Mayor Thompson's veto, and the council adopted a resolution asking Gov. Small to remove his commission. He paid no attention to it, but possibly Emmerson will."

Frances Court's Decision.

Oliver W. Holmes, president of the Northwest Federation of Improvement Clubs, said that the court decision takes a step without which feeder buses would be impossible. He said:

"The commerce commission decided in Springfield of its own motion and without hearing or notice that it would give a permit to the motor coach company. That decision ignored the pending case, and the court decided the commission's order is invalid. Now we can go ahead with the hearing, which is to be resumed on Jan. 9. That hearing will establish the need of transportation and show what the patrons want. Probably 100 organizations will submit testimony."

CHICAGO WOMAN TAKEN FROM SHIP TO N. Y. HOSPITAL

Mrs. Willa Mae McKee, 42 years old, 406 Roslyn place, wife of Walter Smart McKee, president of the Kensington Steel company, has for two days been confined in the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital, New York, according to a dispatch telegraphed last night.

Mrs. McKee arrived in New York from Europe on Tuesday aboard the United States liner President Roosevelt. T. B. Iserman of a New York law firm met the boat with a private automobile. When Mrs. McKee landed she was placed in the car, which sped to the hospital, according to the dispatch.

Steamship officials and lawyers of Iserman's firm refused to discuss the case. At the McKee home here, a girl who declared she was Mrs. McKee's daughter said Mr. McKee was aware of his wife's illness but was still in the city. Mr. McKee could not be reached.

King George Over Worst of His Illness, Doctors Believe

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Jan. 2.—"The king passed a good day and there is a slight improvement in his majesty's condition."

This brief bulletin, signed by King George's three regular physicians, which was issued from Buckingham palace tonight, caused a feeling of assurance here that the British ruler has now passed the danger line.

This feeling of optimism was accentuated by a statement made earlier in the day by Sir William Jomson-Hicks, home secretary, before departing for Mentone, France, for a holiday.

Sir William made what is considered the most hopeful and authoritative statement on the king's illness that has appeared for some time, when he declared:

"I held a consultation with the doctors before I thought it safe to go. They feel that the worst of the illness is over and there is every reason to hope that a slow but gradual improvement will take place."

Although the home secretary will keep in "very close touch with the home office" during his fortnight absence, his departure is considered favorably significant, since he has been in the closest touch with the palace during the king's illness.

It was inferred that the physicians were satisfied with the progress being made when the following morning bulletin was issued. "In spite of a restless night the condition of his majesty remains unchanged from last evening," it said.

The prince of Wales and the duke of Gloucester hunted today with the Belvoir hounds at Waltham. The duke of York hunted with the Fycheley hounds at Walsote.

HOOVER TO PASS ON REPARATIONS PARLEY POLICY

Coolidge Seeks His Views on U. S. Participation.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—One of the principal questions of future policy to which President Hoover will be required to give his attention when he reaches Washington next week is that of American participation in the international conference to definitely fix German reparations.

Indeed, there is a widespread opinion in official Washington that the principal reason for the sudden change in the Hoover itinerary which brings the President Elect to the capital was for the purpose of a conference between President Coolidge and his successor on the project. The international conference, if successfully consummated, is expected to pave the way for the commercialization of the German reparations debt and the liquidation of the 60 year world war obligations of the allies to the United States.

Desires to Discuss Cabinet.

Another consideration, in the opinion of many Republican leaders, probably was the desire of Mr. Hoover to discuss cabinet appointments unobtrusively in Washington with a number of public men whom he could not have summoned to Florida without embarrassing publicity. Mr. Hoover's decision will give attention to the appeals of those who are insistent upon farm legislation at this session in order to avoid an extra session of Congress. However, there is little expectation that he will attempt to intervene in a situation which holds little hope of the passage of a farm bill before this Congress ends on March 4.

But in connection with the question of the German reparations conference, there is a pressing need for the presence of Mr. Hoover in Washington to determine the policy on what will be one of the great problems before his administration.

Wants Hoover's Approval.

President Coolidge is understood to be desirous of taking no step in this matter without the complete approval of Mr. Hoover. The President already has informed the European governments that the United States has no objection to the unofficial participation in the reparations conference of American experts chosen by Germany and the allied powers, as was done in the case of the Dawes commission.

By this arrangement, which is understood to meet the approval of Mr. Hoover, America aids a reparations settlement without officially participating in an affair which does not concern us financially. Although the American government is not to select the American experts, it is known that only those acceptable to the administration will be chosen. The choice is to be made during or shortly after Mr. Hoover's visit to Washington. Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent general of reparations, arrived in New York today and is scheduled to come to Washington to confer with President Coolidge, President Elect Hoover, and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon on the selection of the American experts and the entire project of reparations settlement.

Holds Pronounced Views.

The European governments are particularly desirous that the Americans selected shall be acceptable to Mr. Hoover. They want to inaugurate the proceedings in complete harmony with the President Elect, who has pronounced views on the attitude of the United States toward the reparations question and the project in the background of a revision of the war debts due America.

The project is to fix German reparations at a definite amount, probably between six and ten billions of dollars, the payment to extend over a period of possibly 25 years. Germany, under the Dawes plan, is now paying $60 million dollars a year. With the amount fixed, Germany would issue bonds for liquidation of its total obligation.

These bonds would be floated on the private investment market, either by Germany or by the nations accepting them in payment of reparations.

Europe hopes that the American government will approve the flotation of these bonds in the United States. In fact, Europe hopes that American investors will take the bulk of such offering of German securities.

In this manner the German reparations debt would be transferred from a public into a private debt. The German government would owe not

"FIRSTS OF 1929" ARE RECORDED AS COUNTY BUILDING OPENS YEAR

Here are some "Firsts of 1929" in the county building yesterday:

The first marriage license was issued to Anthony Katsulos, 32 years old, 5446 Magnolia avenue, and Miss Anastasia Gavares, 22 years old, 4717 North Talman avenue.

The first divorce suit to be filed was brought by Mrs. Lillian Vancura, 1250 South Tripp avenue, against her husband, Joseph.

The first divorce decree granted was by Superior Judge William N. Gemmill to Mrs. Anna Holz, 2143 North Nagle avenue, from her husband, Otto. The first new suit of any kind to be filed was on a $1,700 note brought by Peter Gricius against Neda Stanikowicz.

Other spectacles and that the report presents an unjustifiably favorable picture of German economic life. When it is said that "the Dawes plan is functioning" it simply means, commentators say, that Germany has been borrowing money to pay her creditors.

Admits Excessive Expenditures.

On the other hand, a section of the press readily acknowledges the justice of Mr. Gilbert's strictures regarding expenditures by states and communities over which the reich exercises an insufficient control.

Official quarters, while paying tribute to the objectivity of Mr. Gilbert's report, complain that the agent general seems to have made inadequate allowance for Germany's difficulties in obtaining fresh capital with which it must produce means to meet the claims of its war creditors.

BOY DISCHARGES PISTOL; WOUNDS TWO BROTHERS

Twelve year old John Mackey of 2511 Polk street, while playing yesterday with a .45 caliber pistol salvaged from a battlefield by his father, a war veteran, discharged the weapon. The bullet pierced the left arm of John's brother Patrick, 7 years old, and lodged in the back of another brother, Edward, 9 years old.

Police took the wounded brothers to the county hospital, where their condition was pronounced not serious. The father, a carpenter, arriving home from work, said he had loaded the pistol and discharged some of the shells celebrating New Year's eve. His wife, he said, had run away with another man four years ago, compelling him frequently to leave his five children at home alone.

MERCURY RISES; ONE DEATH HERE COLD WAVE TOLL

Chicago and the middle west, which since New Year's morning have shivered in the grip of near zero temperatures, experienced relief last night. The mercury climbed from a minimum of 3 degrees at 8 a. m., yesterday to an unofficial mark of 20 degrees at midnight. Meanwhile one man was dead of exposure, another was reported dying at the county hospital, and three were treated for frostbites.

The middle west forecast for today was warmer, with snow tonight and possibly tomorrow. Colder weather is forecast for tomorrow.

The man dead of exposure was identified as Daniel Tannard, 62 years old, 1819 Touhy avenue.

WARN AGAINST AUTO GAS AS THREE MORE DIE

A warning of the peril from automobile exhaust gas was issued yesterday by Coroner Herman N. Bundesen as three deaths from this cause were reported to his office. The victims apparently died while warming the motors of their cars in their private garages or while making minor repairs.

The victims were William J. Schneider, 46 years old, 9647 Winston avenue; Henry Apellan, 38 years old, 1725 Brown avenue, Evanston, and Peter Leach, 45 years old, 2233 West 18th place.

"The carbon monoxide gas," said Coroner Bundesen, "overcomes its victims without forewarning. It takes only a few seconds with a fast running, cold motor to create enough of the gas in a small closed garage to cause death."

"Many of the deaths are due to a garage door swinging shut accidentally while the motorist is sitting in his car. The simple expedient of having a hook so the door can be fastened open will save many lives."

AMBASSADOR HERRICK CONFINED TO BED WITH ATTACK OF INFLUENZA

Cleveland, O., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador to France since 1912, tonight was suffering from an attack of influenza that confined him to his bed at his home.

Mr. Herrick's condition, at first believed by relatives and friends to be alarming, took a turn for the better today. He was resting easily and was in high spirits.

Mr. Herrick became slightly ill when he caught cold about ten days ago. Dr. John Phillips was called today when Mr. Herrick had difficulty in breathing and had a fever. Dr. Phillips took two tanks of oxygen to the Herrick home, but found it unnecessary to use them. The physician later said Mr. Herrick's fever had subsided and that his breathing was normal.

Mr. Herrick, who is 74 years old, was determined to get out of bed today, but Dr. Phillips left two trained nurses with him to see that he kept in bed.

Peter Miknas, 32 years old, 3037 Cheltenham place, couldn't pay his fine of $20 imposed on him by Judge George B. Holmes in the Grand Crossing court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct. His wife, Rose, told the court that he had not been working for the last year.

"Have you the money to pay your fine, young man?" asked the judge. Miknas beckoned to his mother, a frail, gray haired woman, who produced her purse.

"Wait a minute," Judge Holmes said, turning to the mother. "How much have you there in your purse?" "Twenty-five dollars," she replied. "If you pay your son's fine you will have nothing left," said the court. "I cannot permit the mother of any able bodied man who won't work to pay his fine. I'll raise his fine to $50 and costs." Miknas was then ordered to the Bridewell.

56 DIE IN JAPAN STORM; TWENTY TOWNS STRICKEN

TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 3.—(Thursday.)—Several hundred houses were reported destroyed, 56 persons killed, and scores injured by storms on the Kondo coast, southwest of Niigata. Information reaching the railway department here today was that at least 20 villages were inundated by the high sea yesterday.

Tidal Wave in Mediterranean.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Storms in the English channel today retarded the return of Londoners who had celebrated the holidays in France. A tidal wave swept over the Iles d'Hyeres, in the Mediterranean. The tidal wave ran south along the French coast as far as Saint Tropez. Although no lives were lost, hundreds of thousands of francs' worth of damage was done to fishing smacks and other small craft. The Maid of Hydra, a channel cargo vessel, was badly battered while the Charlotte and the Madeleine were forced to hurry back to the shelter of the French coast. Three passengers were swept into the sea and drowned.

2 Youths Seized in Auto; Confess 14 Store Robberies

A Berwyn police squad, stopping two young motorists yesterday on suspicion, found a carpenter's brace and drill in the rear seat. The youths, Robert Butler, 18 years old, 1081 Sherman avenue, Evanston, and Max Donnell, 20 years old, 2923 Bissell street, confessed they had stolen the car and had used the tools to break into fourteen tea stores in Berwyn and Chicago. They will be arraigned tomorrow before Magistrate Joseph Cerny in Berwyn.

WELL, NOW, WHO TOLD ALL THIS ABOUT SOPHIE?

It's Big Mystery to Her and Dr. Schireson.

An anonymous telephone call informed The Tribune yesterday that Sophie Tucker, on her way from New York to Hollywood, was stopping in Chicago to have her face lifted by Dr. Henry J. Schireson, plastic surgeon accused by the American Medical Association of unethical advertising and manipulating patients.

A reporter got Dr. Schireson on the telephone and the doctor said: "Miss Tucker is in the operating room now. I'll ask her if she will consent to give an interview, but I want you to tell her that I didn't call the newspapers. Hold the phone a minute, please." Then a moment later: "Yes, Miss Tucker will see you here at my office."

In the Doctor's Sanctum.
The reporter opened the door of the doctor's loop office and a Chinese gong sounded automatically. There was a spacious waiting room with imitation cherry furniture of oriental design and there was a faint odor as of burning incense.

On a settee was a young man with an army overcoat beside him and tape on his nose. Across the room was a young woman with tape behind her ears. On another chair sat a hook-nosed young lady, apparently a shop girl. The walls were hung with framed pictures of stage people, folks who like their photographs in public places.

The reporter was ushered into another waiting room. There, overflowing a comfortable chair, was Sophie Tucker, with a strip of tape plastered in front of each of her ears.

Just a Wrinkle Job.
"Just having a few laugh wrinkles removed before filling my $250,000 contract for six movie-talkies," she explained. "Mention my old friend, Dr. Schireson, as one of the greatest surgeons in the world and I'll give you another story."

"I'm a bride," continued the 40-year-old musical comedy star. "I was married a couple of weeks ago in Kentucky."

"His name? O, nobody knows him here in Chicago. He's A. Lackey, a small merchant in New York. Sells dresses; lives at the Park Central hotel; is 38 years old, and was never married."

"The date? Let's see. A guy ought to know his wedding date. It was Dec. 14 at Newport, Ky."

No Honeymoon; She Has Fin.
"Honeymoon? No. I've been laid up with the flu ever since the wedding. Had to get out of bed to fill my movie contract. He couldn't go with me to California because this is his busy time of the year. I'll visit him in New York between pictures."

"The operation? Just a little fat and loose skin off the face. Only a small cut in front of the ears. Had to look a little younger for the films. This is a business proposition with me."

"A picture? Sure I'll pose for a picture. This is a dollars and cents proposition with me. I'd sure like to know how you got wind of this operation."

Dr. Schireson walked into the room. "I hope you don't think I'm responsible for this publicity," he said.

This is Sophie's third marriage. She was divorced in 1913 from Louis Tucker, to whom she had been wed ten years. In 1920 she got a decree from Frank C. Westphal, to whom she was married in 1917. She has a son, Bert Tucker, 22 years old, who is on the stage in New York.

Legal action to force the county to pay the city $2,713,325 was begun yesterday by Corporation Counsel Samuel Ettelson with the preparation of a council order directing him to bring suit against the county for that sum. The money is owed chiefly for the feeding of county prisoners at the Bridewell.

In a letter to the mayor, Ald. John S. Clark (30th), chairman of the council finance committee, stated that the county owes $2,445,481 for the board of prisoners at the Bridewell.

MAYOR'S OFFICE GETS BOOST AS BUDGET IS CUT

Health Fund Only Other to Escape Ax.

Only two of the major departments in the city hall, the mayor's office and the health department, escaped the economy ax wielded by the council finance committee in drafting its so-called retrenchment budget for the corporate fund in 1929. It was revealed by final figures compiled yesterday.

The total amount allowed by the committee for the operating expenses of the city this year was $57,442,670, or $4,502,331 less than the record breaking budget of last year. Should the committee budget be passed, it will be the first time in a decade that corporate expenses have been actually less than in the previous year.

Final action on the budget will be taken by the council at a special meeting Saturday morning. It will go into effect ten days later.

Total Levy 166 Million.

Tentative estimates by the committee staff yesterday indicated that the total city tax levy for 1929 will be $166,000,000. This includes a contemplated school budget of $98,250,000; public library, $2,135,000; municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, $2,420,000; pension funds, $7,240,000, and sinking fund and interest, $12,562,000. It does not include the water, vehicle tax, and miscellaneous funds deriving revenues from sources other than direct taxation.

"Every morning I find my office jammed with people demanding an increase in this or that appropriation," said Ald. John S. Clark (30th), chairman of the committee. "I tell them all the same thing—we don't have the money. The committee has done a fine job and I'm for sticking by the retrenchment budget to the last ditch. I will oppose any attempt to increase it on the floor of the council."

Mayor's Office Gets Boost. The appropriation for the mayor's office was boosted $7,500, and the department of health received $220,359 more than last year. The mayor, in addition to office expenses, has a contingent fund to spend. Last year it was $90,000. The committee topped this to $10,000, but later relented and made it $50,000.

An appropriation of $119,000 for new dental clinic work in the schools accounted for part of the health department increase. The committee also allowed Health Commissioner Kegel's request for a group of new health inspectors.

Where Cuts Were Made.

Cuts in the other major departments are shown in the following tabulation:

Department	1928	1929
City council	$ 500,000	2,914
Police	26,250,000	263,000

Smoke abatement	678,720	70,267
House of correction	102,700	14,020
Public service	39,450	15,700
Public welfare

In addition to the departmental cuts, the committee budget also slashes down the appropriation for public benefits to $299,530, a reduction of $401,569, and reduces the miscellaneous government item by $13,699. Among the outside groups, dependent upon corporate revenue, which were hit were the Chicago plan commission, cut from $100,000 to $40,000, and the Chicago aero commission, from $15,250 to $7,000.

ASK CHANGE IN LAW TO LENGTHEN TERMS FOR SPECIAL JURIES

The legislature will be asked to amend the law for special grand juries so that a special grand jury may be in session for longer than one month, according to an announcement made yesterday at the office of State's Attorney John A. Swanson.

First Assistant State's Attorney Frank J. Loesch, who carried on the fight against the alliance of crime and politics before six special grand juries, and who will direct the new special jury, if it is allowed today by Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court, pointed out the waste of time under the present law.

"In the middle of an investigation we may have to change juries," said Mr. Loesch. "We then have to waste a week or two in educating the new jury and representing the evidence from the prior jury. The law should be amended so that when a jury starts on an investigation it can carry it through to the end."

Youth Ends Life; Reason "Known Only to Mother"

Leaving a note intimating that there was a "big reason" for his act known to none but his mother, Floyd Meddows, 23 years old, 124 North Le Claire avenue, committed suicide in the kitchen of his apartment yesterday by inhaling gas. Police have communicated with his mother, who lives in Urbana. A sister, Gertrude, said she would come to Chicago today to attend the inquest.

MAN OF 98 TRIES TO PROVE HE IS M'CLINTOCK KIN

David Eaton McClintock, 98 years old, of Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday introduced depositions before Probate Judge Henry Horner in support of his claim to a share of the $1,000,000 estate of William Nelson McClintock, who died a few years ago. He is trying to prove himself a grand uncle of the youth.

William Darling Shepherd, who was Billy's guardian, is engaged in involved litigation with a number of the estate of the deceased in a fight for the estate. A share is also sought in pending suits by Miss Isabella Pope, who was McClintock's fiancé.

Yesterday's hearing was continued for further presentation of evidence.

NEGRO DIES OF WOUND.

ONLY ONE BATH A WEEK DECREED IN GERMAN CITY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] BERLIN, Jan. 2.—The population of the German city of Chemnitz, which numbers close to 1,000,000 people, has been forbidden to bathe except once weekly. Bathing in Chemnitz must now proceed on the principle of "when the mayor says bathe we all bathe."

In order to control the bathing proclivities of the people of Chemnitz, the water mains are to be shut off, with the exception of two hours on Sunday morning, just before church time. Citizens found surreptitiously saving up drinking water for bathing purposes will be severely fined.

Automobiles must not be washed with water, the mayor further ordains, alleging that this must be the will of heaven, since it went insufficient rain to fill the municipal reservoirs and then the frost came to freeze up the small quantity left.

53 YEARS OF PROGRESS

During the latter part of the Nineteenth Century and well into the Twentieth Century, the furniture made in America was patterned from French and English Eighteenth Century styles.

In recent years we find an ever-increasing demand for furniture that is in keeping with present-time ideals of comfort, durability and beauty.

Did you know that here in America we created the rocking chair—that it is typically American and always has been? To America is also accredited the chiffonier and many adaptations of the old-fashioned folding bed.

There is little doubt but what furniture produced in America today is superior to that created elsewhere. For 53 years Revell's have continuously offered furniture and home furnishings in accord with the spirit of the times.

DEFENDS CHURCH RIGHT TO FOSTER POLITICAL ISSUES

Pulpit Is Morality's Hope,
Methodists Told.

The right of the Methodist church to enter politics to fight for prohibition and any other cause it may choose was defended yesterday by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and morals, speaking before 1,500 of the highest officials of the Methodist Episcopal church at the First Methodist church in Evanston.

Dr. Wilson did not mention recent Washington dispatches telling of a noisy church lobby planned to defeat the U. S. navy cruiser bill, but it appeared that he might have had them in mind when he said: "The bill of rights says congress shall not establish any religion, nor restrict the free exercise thereof. That is a restriction on congress and not a restriction on the churches."

Exercising Rights, He Says.
"The constitution permits the right of the speech, free press, assembly and petition for redress of grievances," he continued. "We are constitutionally exercising these rights and none others."
"If the ministry did nothing to end the tide of commercialism, immorality, of low suggestion, of organized temptation, who will do it? The press will not do it. The platform is too indifferent. Only the pulpit, successor of the apostles of old, has the courage and duty of leadership in the direction of moral reform."

Indorse Jones-Stalker Bill.
Dr. Wilson declared that the Jones-Stalker bill now pending before both houses of congress will make up for some of the defects of the Volstead act. The Stalker bill makes a violation of the prohibition amendment a felony punishable by a fine of from $1,000 to $5,000, and imprisonment of from one to five years. A committee was appointed by the conference to formulate an indorsement of the bill to be forwarded to Washington. The conference of leaders of Methodism will last three days.

CROATS WILL ASK JUGO-SLAV KING TO SPLIT NATION

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Jan. 2.—King Alexander today accepted the resignation of the government of Premier Anton Korosevich. Dr. Matcok, leader of the Croatian peasant coalition, made it known that should the king consult him in the formation of a new government he would propose three alternative plans.

These would be:
Creation of a federated kingdom of autonomous provinces.
Partition of the kingdom along the lines of the Save and Drina rivers, with Belgrade the capital of one division and Zagreb of the other.

Establishment of a new triune kingdom, with Serbia, South Serbia, and Montenegro forming one element; Croatia, Slovenia, and Dalmatia a second element; and Bosnia, Herzegovina, and the third. Each division would have full autonomy.

Whatever the solution, the government crisis is expected to be protracted.

THREE DEAD IN AUTO ACCIDENT; DRIVER IS HELD

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—Three persons are dead, another is seriously injured, and Russell Matson, 39, a Granville farmer, is in jail charged with murder as a result of an auto accident on the state road just outside of Streator last night.

The dead are Joseph Carter, 23, and his two brothers, Richmond, 20, and Louis, 15, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carter, who reside near Cornwell. John Bunn, 30, of Granville, who was riding with Matson is near death at the Streator hospital. Matson admitted to police that he had been drinking.

INDICT SUSPECT IN PLOT TO KILL TWO DRY AGENTS

U. S., State Co-operate in Speedy True Bill.

The offices of United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson and State's Attorney John A. Swanson co-operated yesterday in the speedy indictment of an alleged Chicago bootlegging gangster, suspected of plotting the assassination of two prohibition agents. The defendant, Mike Picchi, 29 years old, was named in a true bill on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and a record bond for the charge involved was asked.

When the indictment is returned before Chief Justice John J. Sullivan tomorrow a recommendation calling for a $30,000 bond will be attached. Assistant District Attorney John Swanson announced that he will fight any attempt to lower this amount. He promised to go into the state courts to support the state's attorney's office.

Solved in Chicago Heights.

Picchi was arrested in Chicago Heights on Dec. 28 by Prohibition Agents Albert M. Nabers and Elliott

Neer. They charged that a revolver loaded with dum-dum bullets was found in his possession.

Agents Nabers and Neer, riding in an automobile bearing a government license tag, were cruising through Chicago Heights gathering evidence against the bootleg ring, the operators of which have caused many slayings in the south end of Cook county.

Picchi in another car followed them constantly, they charged. If they put on speed he, too, put on more power, if they slowed down he did the same thing, they said.

The dry agents finally jumped from their automobile and covering Picchi with their revolvers ordered an explanation. When he could give none they searched him and found the revolver.

Picchi was held by the government on a charge of intimidating federal agents and when it appeared yesterday that he was to gain his liberty on bond the state's attorney's office was asked to take immediate action and to set a high bond. Assistant State's Attorney Edwin Spiro, acting on the order of Prosecutor Swanson, took the government agents before the jury at once and a true bill was promptly voted.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

1. Make Chicago the First City in the World.
2. Start the Subway.
3. Electrify the Railroads.
4. Abolish the Smoke Poll.
5. Grade Separation on Through Streets and Boulevards.

TRANSFORMING THE NEAR SOUTH SIDE.

James Simpson, in an outline of the Chicago Plan agenda for 1929, addressed himself to the situation on the near south side. There bushels of smoke, acres of track, and a sinuous river dam the current of the city's growth. It is potential a waste, area for the highest type of metropolitan cultivation. Actually its value is negative. Rail road properties sprawled out wastefully make inefficient use of this precious land. Adjacent holdings are depreciated and the entire city suffers.

As Mr. Simpson pointed out, the citizens of Chicago have already taken the initial step in transforming the near south side. Osteopathic treatment is being administered so that, by 1930 the channel of the river from Polk to 18th street will run a bee line. The city's part in the development would go farther, however. With the river unlinked a number of traffic avenues must be extended. Market, Franklin, Wells, La Salle, and Dearborn streets, Mr. Simpson mentions.

These improvements will represent a tremendous investment on the part of the taxpayers. Without coordinated improvement of the railroad properties this investment will pay negligible dividends. Lengthy and seemingly inconclusive discussions have been held by the fourteen railroads terminating in the La Salle, Dearborn, and Grand Central stations. The subject supposedly has been a new union depot, where to put it, and how to use it. The suspicion is adequately supported that the subject of these discussions has been how to avoid a new terminal arrangement.

"Procrastination in the adoption of a definite terminal plan by several roads has greatly hampered the development of the city and has resulted in enormous losses to both the city and the railroads," says Mr. Simpson, who talks from information.

What Mr. Simpson omitted was an explanation of the motive of the railroads' directorates and executives in obstructing the improvement of Chicago. This we can supply. While most of the interested railroads have tried the tolerance of this community with their evasions, the New York Central is probably the most responsible for the bad situation as any of the other offenders. Certainly if this road should take the initiative in the negotiations, the chance of a settlement would be decidedly increased. But Chicago, in the estimation of the New York Central, with its eastern ownership and management, is a revenue producer to be satisfied and served by outworn equipment and the proceeds to be invested in the upbuilding of the city and the railroad in New York and the east. There is not even the incentive to make this terminal fertile for the profit of the railroad in the matter of air right developments, but the absentee principle of plowing on this land is applied.

George Ingalls, freight traffic manager of the New York Central, told Tom Petty that he had taken exception to THE TRIBUNE'S description of the road as a bad citizen. He said that the New York Central must be allowed to proceed in its own way and that coercive legislation would be impotent. He said that coercive legislation in New York was knocked out in the higher courts. But the New York Central gave New York a new union terminal with electrification. Mr. Ingalls said this was done because the road wanted to do it. We would be willing to withdraw our suggestion that Mr. Emmerson and the Illinois assembly direct the passage of legislation looking to the electrification of new Chicago terminals if the New York Central should show the same disposition toward the interests of Chicago that it has toward those of New York.

AGAIN IT MAY HAVE BEEN THE CLIMATE.

It has been suggested that a football center if he found an opportunity to carry the ball might easily get started for the wrong goal line. Most of the time when he is handling the ball he is sending it in the direction it is not intended ultimately to go. Whatever happened in the mind of the California boy he made a famous play in that 69 yard run to his own line with the speediest California back in vain pursuit of him.

Sympathetic persons are sorry for him and he is probably a tragic holiday figure, but it may be hoped that life still will contain bright moments for him. It may not seem possible now, but there can be hope. That exhausting run lost his name. It allowed Georgia Tech to get the two points it needed to win. Later in life the boy might have made a fool of himself on the stock market and lost a fine inheritance, he might have ruined himself and his family in almost any conceivable way and not have found it such a tragedy. Football is life's most serious adventure. Possibly it is overrated as such, but there is no use in telling youth that.

In this case the boy is a fine player. We think in spite of the present gloomy outlook there is a chance that so extraordinary a play will come to be regarded for its true worth, one of the most amazing, comical and enjoyable stunts that the exciting game ever knew, one which enriches its history with a classic example of humor. The boy, who contributed it in the fashion he did with a mighty determination to succeed in doing the worst thing that could possibly be done should earn his own special place in the record. We hope he gets as much fun out of it in a day or two or a month or two as all the other people.

It may be attributed to the climate. It couldn't happen elsewhere, but in California all things are possible, particularly in Los Angeles.

MICHIGAN'S BLOOD SACRIFICES.

The Michigan woman who was caught in petty bootlegging in a state notorious as the outlet for Canadian whisky and ale has been put through the judicial procedure by which this state sends people to prison for life for violations of prohibition laws. Evidence that she had been convicted four times of selling or possessing liquor was presented to a jury and thereupon the mandate of the law took all discretion from the court and the miserable offender was doomed. Snow storms and holiday delays halted the execution of the writ, but the picture of Michigan prohibition savagery is about filled out.

Alongside it ought to be hung an adequate picture of the Detroit liquor traffic showing the volume and the price quotations. It will be interesting news when one big operator is convicted. The life law means nothing to the men who are keeping Michigan wet and supplying the state in neighboring states. It will not mean anything to the bootleggers who supply the members of the legislature in Lansing. Its ferocity is effective in stopping the trade in contraband but in catching petty offenders with a pint now and then. The Michigan fanatics have a great appetite for cruelty, but it can be satisfied with small portions, bits of obscurity and stupidity, men and women who haven't sense enough to realize that they will be caught by the witch hunters and used for the ceremonial sacrifices of living victims to the great moral joss.

The fanatics are voodoo priests. They need a little blood for the rites, for the satisfaction of their emotions, and the exaltation of celebrants.

INTERNATIONAL NATIONALISM.

For challenging Mussolini and compelling him to surrender an insulting imperialistic practice the republic of Argentina deserves a big hand. Somebody had to call the dictator and an American republic did it. The incident was a comparatively small one. As a precedent its consequences may be large. Under the terms of a Mussolini edict children born of Italians on foreign soil are still Italians and Italians of foreign citizenship are returning to their native land are still Italians, subject, in some cases, to military service. When this happened in a case of an Italian citizen of Argentina recently, President Yrigoyen signed a decree prohibiting Italian ships from entering the port of Buenos Aires until the Mussolini regulations were removed. They were removed.

The presumption of Mussolini in attempting to appropriate citizens of foreign nations is intolerable. If he would appropriate the Sicilian terrorists who defy our police and legal machinery, we would be grateful, but these are emigrants. For import he wants better men. He is willing that they should be fed and sweetened on the prairies of America, but when the time comes he wants them for Italian service. It may be true that Italian immigrants are encouraged to become citizens of this country. That, the Fascist agents will explain, is for the greater privilege and reward of Italians, who thereby become greater assets in the Mussolini scheme. We were told by a politically prominent and reputable American citizen of Italian birth that if he should presume to criticize the Mussolini regime he would suffer immediate death. Such a contingency did not distress him or occur to him as a violation of the rights and independence of an American citizen. It was justified in his mind by the assumption that Mussolini is transforming Italy and that terroristic censorship of criticism abroad is an essential part of this program. With Fascism, its objective and methods, so firmly impressed upon the Italian mind, it is doubtful that many Italians may become unqualified citizens of other countries, especially of the United States.

Argentina has defeated this doctrine of ubiquitous Italian nationalism.

MORE JUDGES ARE NEEDED.

Time is an element in justice much neglected in our courts. Prompt trials as well as just decisions are essential to order and good government.

With the Criminal court calendar crowded as never before, with civil suits waiting two years or more before trial, the situation in Chicago is most serious. As the Chicago Bar association points out, the problem demands immediate attention.

Under the Illinois constitution Cook county is entitled to 22 more judges on the basis of its new population. All of these should be provided by the legislature.

Editorial of the Day

CANADA'S EMPIRE POSTAGE.

Premier King's Christmas gift of penny postage from Canada to the empire, as a contribution to unity of the dominions, was a happy inspiration. It will no doubt be followed by a like response on the part of other dominions as soon as war burdens lighten and prosperity increases, as in Canada. The coincidence of the act, when regarded with its majesty's emergence from danger which it also signifies, is peculiarly apposite. The warm expressions of loyalty on the part of our premier, in his announcement, reflect the temper of the Canadian people, more particularly at this moment.

There is a practical side, as well, to the premier's announcement. There has been a marked increase in efforts to establish intra-imperial trade by Canada. It is more than probable that any deficiency in the postal revenue, due to the reduction, will be made up in the increase of correspondence.

One of Rowland ELLIS' arguments for penny postage in 1919 was that the cost of conveyance differed so little with the distance that a uniform rate of postage to and from British possessions was not a burden if applied generally. The improved transportation conditions of today, by ocean lines especially, make that idea more applicable than ever before. This reason will be applicable particularly at the moment in the maritime provinces. There new steamer lines and a greater volume of new business is opening up with the British West Indies. Perhaps the suggestion would not be out of place that the restoration of penny postage from Canada should be especially commemorated. It might well call for a stamp of special design peculiar to the occasion. One that would particularly express in design and legend this dominion's rejoicing over the dispensed anxiety regarding the health of our king, would, no doubt, be heartily welcomed.

THE FIGHT AGAINST BLINDNESS.

A SIMPLE definition of blindness is as follows: A blind person is one who cannot see how to count fingers at arm's length when the light is good. If such a person cannot see the fingers at all at that distance, he is said to be totally blind. Vision above the finger-counting level ranges through "partial blindness" through several levels to poor vision, normal vision, and extra good vision.

There are said to be nearly 5,300 blind people in the United States. Some of these are born blind, some become blind after birth as the result of disease contracted during birth, and some lose their vision as the result of accidents or diseases of later life.

It is estimated that about 10 per cent of the blind are born that way. Another group, estimated to make up 2 per cent of the blind, become blind in later life as the result of inherited disease or inherited tendency to such diseases as glaucoma and cataract.

Many years ago Dr. Lucien Howe began a campaign to control blindness developing in new born babies as the result of infection at birth. That campaign has given us a new custom—the use of sterile solution in the eyes of the new-born. Mothers know the importance of using these drops and give their consent even when they do not ask for the service. Most states now have compulsory laws on the subject. Most state health departments furnish the drops.

Now Dr. Howe wants us to adopt another measure. This one is to take the form of a law relating to the marriage license. Under the proposed law, every couple applying for a marriage license would be asked whether he and she have any parent, sister, or first cousin who was born blind.

If the answer is yes to this question, or if either party refuses to answer the question, the license will not be issued until a bond for $1,000 has been posted and accepted. This bond is to become the property of the state in case any child born to the couple is born blind. It is to pay the state in part for the money it will spend because of the case or cases of inherited blindness born in this wedlock.

At the end of the child-bearing period, or at the termination of wedded life by divorce or death, the state is to release the bond if no blind children have been born.

REPLY.

You have taken in too much territory. I think you are right as to the matter, and I hope you are right as to fever blisters.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with name and address of writer.

DOCKED FOR HOLIDAYS.
Chicago, Dec. 31.—(Legal Friend of the People.)—I would like to know if a person who is being paid on a weekly basis and has been for the last six months can be docked for Christmas and New Year holidays. L. A. L.

Not on the facts stated.

INSTALLING WATER METERS.
Chicago, Dec. 26.—(Friend of the People.)—I have a three flat frame building located in the 4800 block on North Winchester avenue. About two months ago the city water department came and dug up my whole parkway by putting in a meter. About two weeks after the installation they informed me that they were going to take the meter out, which amounted to about four wheelbarrows full. As I did not do this, some one sent a man over and all he did was to scatter the dirt around making an awful mess, the sand on top. I was wondering if it was possible to make them level the lawn with black dirt and take the sand away as it was? Also, in this very block there are about five buildings just like mine, but mine is the only one with a meter.

J. R.

A meter connection was installed on North Winchester avenue, but no meter.

Meters will be set at this location as soon as they are received in stock.

Meters and meter connections will be set at other buildings on North Winchester avenue when meters are received.

The surplus dirt has been removed.

B. W. CULLEN,
Superintendent, water pipe extension.

CONTRACT NEVER FILLED.
Chicago, Dec. 31.—(Legal Friend of the People.)—Will you kindly advise through your daily column: 1. Is a contract signed January, 1928, for paving of alley, on which work was never done, still effective? 2. How long does contract hold good if work is not done? 3. Would notice to the effect that contract is canceled on account of failure to carry out the terms release me from liability? —J. M. S.

1. Much depends on the wording of the contract. It seems probable that the work is such that the property owner is entitled to cancel the contract on reasonable notice.

2. Depends in part on the wording.

3. It probably would.

MOSES.

They wrapped him in a shawl;

His father?—Baal or Saul?)
They wove a basket for him
And hid him safe away . . .

Moses was a clever child,
And Moses liked to play.
He was leading armies through
Cities for the taking,
Or that he could give the world
God, of his own making!

So . . . he read old manuscripts
Under seven arches . . .
Trained his soldiers, went with them
On their dusty marches;
And he found a dark-eyed girl

Knew her as his wife to be,

What Animal—Any Animal at All—Is Best for the Home?

We had to give those two Java sparrows to Helen. We had bought them for her, but after we had kept them a few days we got mighty fond of those two little feathered crooks and hoped Helen would forget about it. But she didn't. She came over with a boy friend and grabbed the cage and the boy friend, muttering secret hidden curses on sparrows, Java, Asia, and people who would buy things like that for a Christmas present, lugged the little birds right down Astor street, and met everybody they knew. Now, we've got to have something to take the place of the Java sparrows. We've thought of everything, from a crested cockatoo to a man eating Bengal tiger, but we can't seem to get anywhere.

KEAPEN INCOME.

They Are, Indeed, Somewhat Reserved.

They are, indeed, rather cold and formal at English clubs compared to the back-slopping "Call Me Sam." "Around-Her-Neck-She-Wore-a-Yellow-Ribbon." "Now-Fellers-Ain't-Sing" style of American clubs. At a New Year's reception Tuesday Joe Rend was talking about how very icy the thermometer is in an exclusive club in London, and he said it could only be described by telling the story an Englishman told him on an Atlantic liner last summer.

"The Englishman," said Joe, "was telling me how very reserved the members of the London club were with even fellow members whom they had seen about the club for ten, or even twenty or thirty years, and meeting them almost every day. 'Why, really,' he said, 'in one of the city clubs to which I belong one of our fellow members was seen sitting every day in the big front window with a copy of the Times in his hand and apparently enormously interested in what he was reading. 'Of course, nobody paid any attention to the matter, but after several days, possibly a week, there was some talk around the club concerning the matter, but, of course, no one thought of approaching the chap and rudely asking him if he felt perfectly all right. Such a thing in a London club is never done, never! But finally the manager of the club told the house committee that he would like to have the front window washed, and he couldn't, because the honorable member was sitting in the middle of it reading the Times. He wanted the house committee to do something about it. The chairman of the house committee said that personally he could do nothing because, although he had met the gentleman in the window daily for fifteen years, they had never been introduced, so, of course, he couldn't speak to him.

"It was the same way with all the members of the committee, but finally a club member was found who was personally acquainted with the gentleman reading in the window. He hesitated to approach him suddenly and engage him in conversation, such a thing being contrary to all the traditions of the club. However, after thinking the matter over for several days, he consented. So, with the house committee, he approached the member sitting in the window reading the Times, and, do you know, they found he had been dead for two weeks."

CENSORSHIP.

The crooked smile, the ugly word,
Are always seen and always heard.
But Truth and Beauty, sheer and stark,
Dear Boston shrouds within the dark!

LAGNAPPE.

THE NERVOUS strain is over. The electors for President and Vice President met in their several states yesterday and balloted for said President and said Vice President as the constitution directs. Say what you will, but every once in a while something is done in these United States as the constitution directs.

DR. WORK says he has not appointed anybody to Mr. Hoover's cabinet and does not intend to do so. Why don't you speak for yourself, Doc? Or maybe you have, Doc. Maybe you have. Maybe? (Pearly of merry laughter.)

AND NOW William Runtell Heart is going to give twenty-five thousand bucks for "a true temperance plan." In reply we would say: "Dear Bill: Begin at the source. Make the cocktail shaker factories stop manufacturing cocktail shakers. Slick the twenty-five grand under the door, but don't ring. We don't like to have our sleep broken for such a measly sum. Love and kisses—et, et, et."

LISTEN, CONGRESS—we've got a suggestion in regard to farm relief. There are thousands of plans put up to you and you're a trifle confused. Here's what you do: If you can find the plan on which any two farmers agree—any two—you pass that bill.

YESSIR, we've got it—an indestructible, rust-proof, nonbreakable last line. Anyhow, it ought to last a year. Here 'tis: Wonder what congress is going to do? Whatever it is, there are some people who won't like it.

GETTING READY FOR HOOVER

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 3, 1864.
CHICAGO.—A snout and violence unparalleled in extent and violence have blanketed Chicago and the entire country from eastern Ohio to the Kansas plains and from southern Illinois to the northern limits of Wisconsin and Michigan with snow ranging from a foot to six feet deep. In this city the thermometer fell to 25 degrees below zero and the suffering was intense. New Year's calls were almost unknown. To add to the dreadful suffering, it was reported that the coal dealers had put up the price of coal $3 a ton.

NEW YORK.—Archbishop John Hughes died at his residence in this city today. The eminent Catholic prelate was born in 1798 and reached the full dignity of bishop on the death of Bishop Dubois in 1842.

WASHINGTON.—There are indications that Gen. Early contemplates a raid toward Winchester and possibly beyond that point.
CHICAGO.—Kyrin McDonald of Chicago and Miss Lizzie M. Bailey, daughter of Z. G. Bailey of Grand Detour, Ogle county, Ill., were married at St. Patrick's church on Dec. 31 by the Very Rev. Dr. Dunn. Weddings reported by the Rev. W. W. Everett: Charles A. Dupee and Miss Jennie Wells on Dec. 29; the Rev. G. Wren and Miss E. N. Everett on Dec. 30; Francis T. Pierce and Miss Catherine C. Mack on Dec. 31, and George E. Fielding and Miss Mary C. Ledward on Dec. 31. The Rev. J. H. Tuttle reported these marriages at which he officiated: Benjamin F. Eastman and Miss Abbie A. Quincy on Dec. 27; Robert Crackel and Miss Harriet Patchlet on Dec. 30; John T. Lester and Miss Mary E. Shergold, daughter of Thomas Shergold, on Dec. 31.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY.

JANUARY 3, 1859.
CHICAGO.—The Oriental mail, which, by the new schedule of the postoffice department, is to cross the continent in thirteen hours less time than was occupied by the trains under the old system, passed through Chicago last evening on time.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-colonel of the First Volunteer cavalry (Rough Riders), ex-assistant secretary of the navy, and ex-police commissioner of the City of New York, was today inaugurated as governor of the state of New York.
WASHINGTON.—Advices from Gen. Otis at Manila do not indicate as grave a situation at Iloilo as is indicated by press dispatches, yet Washington officials are worried. It is evident that the Spaniards, upon turning over the forts to the Filipinos, inspired them to defy the United States forces. The absence of Aguinaldo from Manila complicates matters and arouses the apprehension that his mission to the interior may be for mischief making purposes. Orders were issued today hastening the departure of the three regiments recently assigned to duty in the Philippines.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 3, 1919.
NEW YORK.—Efforts to rescue the overseas soldiers on board the United States transport Northern Pacific, grounded off Fire Island for two days, were halted late today after 237 soldiers and 37 crew members had been landed. Three lifeboats were capsized by the heavy seas and wounded men were hurled into the surf. More than 2,600 soldiers remain on the boat, which is said to be drifting easy and in no danger.

ROME.—From the frontier to Rome the journey of President Wilson was like a triumphal procession. Mountaineers and villagers swarmed from the hills and valleys to the railroad over which the presidential train passed to pay homage to America.
CHICAGO.—John E. Williams, formerly full administrator for Illinois and widely known as an arbitrator in industrial disputes, died at his home in Streator after an illness of several months. He was 78 years old.

CHICAGO.—The thermometer stood at 5 degrees below zero at 4 o'clock this morning, the coldest of the winter so far.
CHICAGO.—The engagement of Miss Catherine Lloyd Wright of Oak Park, daughter of Frank Lloyd Wright, architect, to Kenneth A. Baxter of Bryan, O., was announced by Mr. Baxter.

CLEARING THE AIR.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—On a recent trip through Memphis I met an engineer who informed me that the smoke nuisance would soon be a thing of the past, due to a simple smoke eliminating apparatus which had been installed in the largest building in town. Heretofore this building had been complained of as a smoke nuisance. He stated that since the new installation, smoke had been entirely eliminated. Naturally, being from Chicago, where we have always had smoke to contend with, I called on the engineer of the building, who was pleased to show me the workings of this eliminator.

Entering the power plant I saw accomplishment of what had heretofore been considered as impossible. A complicated plant, by creating its own draft and giving the same working conditions as an open stack did, was absolutely eliminating all smoke. At my request a very heavy fire was built under the large marine boilers, upon which dense black smoke was belching forth in clouds from a hundred foot stack. When this smoke was at its thickest, I requested the eliminator to be put into operation. Within five seconds the smoke entirely disappeared as though cut off by a knife. This operation was so interesting to me that I watched for hours. I was invited to run the plant, and during these various operations not a particle of smoke was to be seen. This idea is a very simple one, being in operation and straining of the carbon, and certainly appears to be foolproof.

It would pay our council to send a committee of engineers to this plant and investigate its operations. I am convinced that in place of having a smoke eliminating commission and a great staff of engineers and inspectors which have proven a failure in the past, that the council effect a law compelling power plants to install this device. By so doing save the taxpayers a great sum of money. Likewise health of each and every one. Then there would be no more black lungs.

A PRIVATE PURSE FOR CRUISERS.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—This morning's Tribune carries a description of the lobby being maintained in Washington having for its object the defeat of the cruiser bill, designed to provide us with a reasonable number of cruisers of the type best suited to our defense. According to this article, the opposition is being headed by the Methodist church.

It might be a good idea for some of these birds to learn the views of the people who furnish the money to maintain their institutions. We have been fairly liberal contributors to the Methodist church, but if this is the only use they have for the money our contributions are going to stop right now. There are still some of us with just plain American guts enough to want an adequate naval defense. If they succeed in defeating the cruiser bill, we suggest THE TRIBUNE start a public subscription to provide the funds for a couple of cruisers. When you do, we want to be among the first contributors.

TENTH OFFENSE.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—I have no sympathy for the woman bootlegger of Michigan. She should be given life imprisonment, if for no other reason than having ten children.

Fashions for the South-journ

HATS go up in front and down in back!

But this is only one of many striking new tendencies. Also very new are turbans in plaids and Roman stripes and woolen ribbon in pastel shades... the French and Debutante Rooms are showing a stunning collection.

Above: a hat of natural bako brims the face just enough for practicality but reaches new lengths in back. It is bound with brown grosgrain.

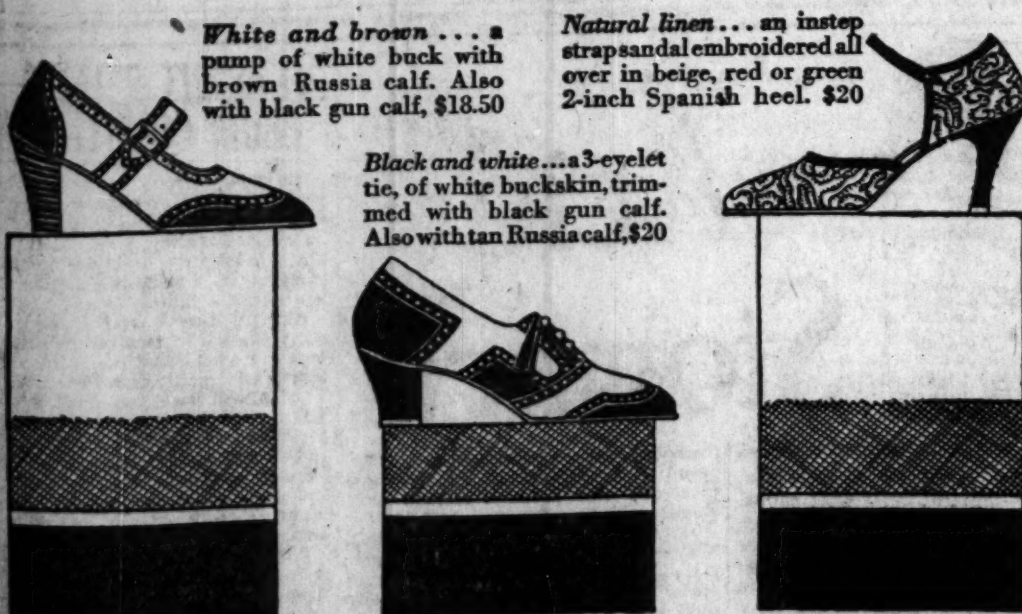

Below: a hat of brown felt follows the line of the brow in front, developing a brim of enormous width... and enormous chic in back.

SHOES remain white or sun-brown!

The Salon is showing many exclusive new fashions for the south... fashions in all white, white with brilliant color... and white with black or the new browns.

White and brown... a pump of white back with brown Russia calf. Also with black gun calf, $18.50

Natural linen... an instep straps and embroidered all over in beige, red or green 2-inch Spanish heel. $20

Black and white... a 3-eyelet tie, of white buckskin, trimmed with black gun calf. Also with tan Russia calf, $20

The one pictured is of Rodier fabric, crepe lined... in a subtle new off-white shade, daybreak, $195

From Women's Wraps, Sixth Floor, North, State (west half)

Afternoon frocks second above are likely to turn into ensembles, so essential has the silk coat, fingertip length, become to the costume. The one pictured is one of a charming collection... in beige dotted all over in brown (a new polka dot pattern). The coat is in a harmonizing wood-brown shade, $85

From the Misses' Dresses, Sixth Floor, South, State

The travel ensemble third above is one of the new summer weight tweeds... as to coat, and beneath it may be a matching skirt, with one of the new tuck-in blouses or a tailored silk dress in harmonizing shades. The one sketched is of the latter variety, ombre tweed in navy, oxford or brown, $150

From the Women's Ensembles, Sixth Floor, Middle, State

An evening ensemble fourth above speaks of tropical nights... in a lovely off-white chiffon with appliqued roses of gold metal brocade and sweeping skirt. The coat is a mere whisp of matching chiffon and has a very long trailing scarf. It is one of an individual group of fashions for the south, $225

COMMISSION TO MAKE STUDY OF COURTS' NEEDS

Judges and Lawyers Act to Speed Justice.

Lawyers and judges gathered last night at the Bar association headquarters to discuss ways and means of improving the administration of justice, civil as well as criminal. While no recommendations were made, a decision was reached to appoint a permanent commission of lawyers, judges and perhaps a few outstanding laymen and some paid employees to make a study of what is needed.

Attorney Sidney B. Gorham, president of the Bar association, after the session said the meeting had done much to promote the interest of justice but said he was not authorized to go into details. He said those present spoke frankly of the ills of the present system, but not in a spirit of criticism either of judges or lawyers. What they all want, he said, is a better way than the present one of handling law suits and criminal trials.

No Decision on Problems.

No such problems as the desirability of a 15th juror or guilty verdicts with 9 votes instead of 12 were mentioned, President Gorham said. The conference did not come to any decision on the subject of whether Cook county is entitled to or needs 22 more judges or any other number, the president stated. That matter was referred to a subcommittee after a division of opinion developed.

Those who attended the meeting were Justice Frederic R. DeYoung of the Supreme court, Chief Justice John M. O'Connor of the Appellate court, Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court, Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court, Judge Michael Feinberg of the executive committee of the Circuit court, Judges Jacob H. Hopkins and Denis E. Sullivan of the executive committee of the Superior court, County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and Probate Judge Henry Horner.

Lawyers Attend Meeting.

The members of the bench and bar committee present with Mr. Gorham were, Francis X. Busch, William F. Sidley, Nathan William MacChesney, Stephen A. Foster, Walter P. Murphy, Willard L. King, John D. Black, Thomas J. Peden and Boettus H. Sullivan.

BANDIT STROLLS INTO OFFICE; GETS $2,000 FROM SAFE

A robber last night entered the office of the Arnoldsville Building and Loan association at 2217 South Ashland avenue, forced two of the organization's officers at the point of a gun to open the safe, and escaped with $2,000. The officials, Merrill Waaga, 7717 South Paulina street, and Dan Henrick, 7723 South Paulina street, were working late at the office, when the young bandit stroled in and ordered them to "stick 'em up." The victims were herded to the rear of the office, where the company safe is located, and there commanded to open the strongbox. Seizing all the money in sight, the robber calmly walked out.

GIRL KIDNAPED LETTER NAMES "KIND OLD-MAN"

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Police tonight were seeking a 16 year old high school girl, Doris Turner, who informed her parents in a letter that she was being held by "a kind old man with a cane," described as "a kind old man about half crazy."

Parents of the girl started a search for her when she failed to return from school late this afternoon. A special delivery letter arrived tonight. "I am so nervous that I can hardly write," it said. "I have been kidnapped. The old man who carried a cane is the one."

"I was late for school this morning and he picked me up. I sniffed and he gave me his handkerchief and that is the last that I remember until he asked me if I wanted to write you."

Girl chums of the missing girl described the man who had spoken to them frequently in recent weeks as about 60 years old.

Dr. Grant also announced breaking of ground for the second unit of the twelve new seminary buildings. The buildings will be completed by September in time for occupancy for the next academic year. It was said.

5 BANDITS ROB APARTMENT; GET $1,500 IN JEWELRY

Five men, their faces partly concealed by white handkerchiefs and carrying revolvers, entered the apartment of Samuel Cooper, 7729 Eastlake terrace, yesterday and compelled him and his wife to give them jewelry valued at $1,500. Cooper, who had been under the care of a physician, was in bed when the robbers entered. They rang the doorbell and a maid, who was expecting the doctor to call, opened the door. Two of the five men were standing with revolvers drawn. Forcing two maids, one of whom was caring for the Coopers' daughter, Verna, to one side, they pushed Mrs. Cooper into the room occupied by her husband and forced them to give up their valuables.

RAID ALLEGED POLICY WHEEL;

McDowell yesterday raided an alleged policy wheel at 208 North Lincoln street, James Martin, 1900 Lake street, and James Woolley, 5259 South Michigan avenue, the alleged keepers, and 15 salesmen were taken into custody and held at the Des Plaines street station. They will be arraigned in court this morning.

The policy wheel operations on the west and south sides will be among the first subjects considered by the special grand jury to be impaneled next week if Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court allows the petition of State's Attorney Swanson.

Sheridan A. Bruseaux, chief investigator for the previous special grand juries, has been investigating alleged collusion between policy wheel operators and members of the police department.

Why Drunkards break their promises to reform!

Drunkenness is a Disease—It is No More Controllable by the Will than is the High Temperature of a Fever—say MEDICAL AUTHORITIES

A FAMOUS medical authority made this statement: "The inebriate may refrain from drinking because he fears punishment, or believes some mental influence has cured him, or because his pledge stimulates his will to abstain; but none of these things can cure the disease. The only cure for drunkenness is medical treatment," a conclusion now shared by practically all physicians. That drunkenness is a disease explains why a drunkard is unable to conquer his craving for alcohol of his own free will. "The nerve cells," stated Dr. Keeley, "have become so accustomed to performing their duties and functions under the influence of alcohol that they are dependent on it and will no longer perform those duties and functions properly and painlessly except when under its influence."

This craving of the nerve cells is so powerful that the strongest-willed person is unable to resist it, as physicians who have studied the disease will tell you. By the restoration of the nerve cells to a normal, natural state, the irresistible craving of these cells is eliminated automatically—and thereafter, as one eminent physician stated: "no will power is needed to prevent drinking."

INAUGURATION TO FILL SPRINGFIELD TO OVERFLOWING

Biggest Affair in State's History Expected.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Louis L. Emmerson's inauguration as governor of Illinois a week from next Monday, it is predicted, will be the largest affair of the kind ever witnessed by the state.

Never before in the history of Springfield have there been so many applications for hotel rooms as have been piled up this year. The larger hotels are said to have received an average of 3,000 room applications and their average capacity is less than one-tenth that number. Efforts are being made to care for the overflow in clubs and private homes, but it is certain that thousands cannot be accommodated overnight.

Special Trains Planned.

Therefore there are hundreds planning to drive to the capital in the morning of inauguration day and drive back home at night. Plans are being formed also for the use of special trains and special sleepers which will leave for all parts of the state immediately after the inaugural ball. Because of the size of the crowd expected, the governor's reception at the executive mansion will be merely a "walk-through," the visitors passing through the mansion, going down the receiving line and out another door. Thence they are expected to go directly to the arena, where the big social event of the day, the ball, is being arranged by the Hamilton club.

Expect Social Revival.

The taking over of the mansion by the Gov. and Mrs. Emmerson is expected to restore to it the old time social activity that has been missing during the last eight years. During her lifetime the late Mrs. Len Small cared little for social life, and since her death the daughter who took over the reins, Mrs. A. E. Inglish, has made little attempt to restore the old atmosphere. It is said there will be a change now and a large attendance at the inaugural reception and ball is expected to be the first sign of the new interest.

Several legislative contests probably will be presented when the new general assembly meets next Wednesday. One of them will be the effort of Representative Walter F. Gallas to oust R. V. Graham, son-in-law of A. J. Corman, who was shown elected in the Nineteenth district. Gallas charges Graham lacks residence requirements. Corman's organization of the Democratic precinct committeemen of the country towns was announced complete at a luncheon at the Iroquois club. Ning Eley of Des Plaines was elected chairman of the executive committee.

Two Announce Candidacy.

John M. Bolton, a west side florist, announced his candidacy yesterday for alderman of the 26th ward against Ald. Frank M. Sloan, one of the Thompson members. Mr. Bolton says his issue will be Thompsonism. Harry E. Fisher announced his candidacy for the seat in the 7th ward vacated by Ald. Ross A. Woodhull, who was elected sanitary district trustee. Fisher is an ex-service man. Members of the Denison group of the 43d ward selected Richard Prendergast, 349 East Chicago avenue, as candidate for alderman at a meeting in their headquarters, 357 West Chicago avenue, last night. Mr. Prendergast announced that he would run on the same law and order platform featured in the primaries last fall.

32 Report for Jury Duty; All Desire to Serve

A venire of thirty-two men appeared for jury duty yesterday before Judge Joseph David. "Well, gentlemen," the judge addressed them, "how many of you want to be excused from service?" No one spoke. "What!" exclaimed the court. "This has no parallel in my thirteen years on the bench."

TILIZE SCIENCE AND LIVE LONGER LEA OF EXPERT

Large Use of Alre

New York, Jan. 2.—(Special.)—Janus like, contemplated on the hand today the vast space universe, where the human being, at the limits of its time, power, deals with millions of billions of years, and on the globe seems less than a grain of Sahara sand; and, on the other hand, with equal energy the man of how a very young child, saved from a few moments of On this double note the 85th anniversary of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, included ten days of deliberation. First to Use What Is Known. While the scientists heard the hundreds of papers presenting research evidence, extending mankind's knowledge of natural phenomena, the universities and enlightening of man's span of life, science of practical medical science itself heard with a peculiarly singular utilization of the science, conquests of science. It came from Health Commissioner and Dr. Iago Galdstone, the information bureau of the New York Academy of Medicine. It is excellent, Dr. Wynne, said, to listen when the scientists consider the age of the earth, the limitations of space, and the structure of matter; but the layman would be more grateful if he gathered at Columbia there, word of cures for such dread diseases, cancer, pneumonia, heart disease, diabetes, pulmonary tuberculosis, influenza, meningitis, etc. Accepting the same viewpoint, Galdstone stressed the importance of integrating into the normal life of the already known conquests of science.

Feasible to Lengthen Life. "If all medical discovery and research were to end now," he pointed out, "it would be possible to lengthen the life of many from fifteen to twenty years by the practical application of all we know about the control of disease." For example, some 700 children every year and many others are great suffering from diphtheria—disease which might be mitigated by effective spreading of information about the disease. "The number of deaths from pneumonia could be substantially reduced by the general public taking the measures to take care of itself," the pneumonia seasons. "The total deaths from heart disease could be reduced by controlling ailments which cause such diseases."

ALDERMEN WILL HOLD HEARINGS ON STREET PLAN

Favor Simpson Scheme for Near South Side.

Public hearings preliminary to carrying forward the Chicago plan commission proposal to penetrate the near south side river straightening area with a system of new streets will be started within the next few days, Ald. K. J. Kaindl (34th), chairman of the council railway terminals committee, announced yesterday.

James Simpson, president of the commission, has stressed the street system as, next to subway construction, Chicago's most important building project for 1929. Ald. Kaindl said he fully agreed with Mr. Simpson.

Hearings Next Week.
"My committee will grapple with the street job without delay," Ald. Kaindl promised. "We expect to begin a series of public hearings the first of next week and I will do my utmost to hasten them."
"We will endeavor to smoke out the railroad and find out just what they propose to do toward constructing a unified electrified terminal. We want them to show their hands and if there is any obstacle we want to know it. I agree with Mr. Simpson that the street program but should 'use all of the legal machinery within its power' to bring the railroads to a showdown."

Map Already Prepared.
Ald. Kaindl pointed out that the committee's engineer, Edward J. Noonan, already has prepared a definite map of the proposed new streets which will be the basis of the committee negotiations.
The Noonan plan calls for the extension of Franklin, La Salle, and Dearborn streets as broad boulevards from Taylor to 22d streets. At Taylor street, Sherman and La Salle streets would merge into the La Salle boulevard, while Federal street and Plymouth court would merge into the Dearborn boulevard. The only street through the area now west of State is Clark street.

MEXICAN BANDIT LEADER AND 1,200 MEN SURRENDER

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 2.—(U.P.)—Benjamin Mendez, leader of Mexico's most notorious bandit, surrendered to the government with an estimated force of 1,200 men, a dispatch to the newspaper Prensa from Cuernavaca, state of Morelos, said today. The surrender was on condition that Mendez and his men be given their freedom and grants of farm lands.

Most of the recent holdups in this region, particularly the automobile robberies on the Mexico City-Cuernavaca highway, were attributed to Mendez. In one of the attacks, the automobile of United States Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow was under fire. Mendez and his men have fought many skirmishes with federal troops.

SIGN NEW TREATY WITH CANADA TO INCREASE NIAGARA WATERPOWER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—[Special.]—A treaty providing for joint projects to increase and maintain the scenic beauty of Niagara Falls was signed by the United States and Canada at Ottawa today. It was disclosed by Secretary Kellogg. Under its terms the two nations would share the cost of constructing remedial works in the Niagara river to increase the volume of water flowing over the American falls and to provide better distribution of the flow over the Canadian section.

A temporary diversion of an additional amount of water for power purposes on each side of the boundary also is provided. The present flow allowed by the treaty of 1909 would be augmented by 10,000 cubic second feet for each nation.

Washington officials said today that it was contemplated that the installation of remedial works would give both governments an opportunity to test out the use of remedial works to offset larger withdrawals of water from the falls for power purposes.

The plans for saving and maintaining the falls worked out by the special international Niagara board a year ago are embodied in the treaty. This board estimated that the cost of remedial work would approximate $1,750,000, of which Canada's share would be $300,000.

$500,000 U. S. TAX REFUND IS WON BY BARTLETT ESTATE

The United States Supreme court in Washington, D. C., yesterday held that the estate of Adolphus C. Bartlett, former head of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., was entitled to a refund of about $500,000 in taxes collected by the government on gifts which had been made in Mr. Bartlett's will. This ruling sustains a decision by a lower court that the tax collections on two trusts established by the will had been properly levied, but that the levies on five other trusts funds were improper.

SIX INDICTED IN PLOT TO BAFFLE MURDER INQUIRY

Bare Bribe Offers in the Slaying of Brennan.

Six men were named in two true bills, one charging murder and the other conspiracy to obstruct justice, by the grand jury yesterday as a result of the evident attempt to baffle the authorities in the prosecution of Martin Mullane, alias Shanty Clark, for the murder on Sept. 23, 1928, of Thomas C. Brennan. The latter was shot and killed when he attempted to act as peacemaker in a saloon fight at 2941 West Madison street.

At the time of the murder the witnesses told the police that Mullane was the man who fired the shot. They said they had known Mullane for some time and that no question existed as to his guilt. After Mullane, who fled at the time, was arrested a coroner's inquest was called. The witnesses then said that the Mullane in custody was not the one they had described as the murderer.

Two Witnesses Indicted.
Mullane was named yesterday for murder and Joseph Cunningham and James McGivney, two of the witnesses, were named in the same true bill as accessories after the fact.

The second true bill charging conspiracy is the result of attempts since Mullane's arrest to bribe Thomas J. Brennan, 3224 Grenshaw street, father of the victim, not to push the prosecution. He testified that he was offered $200 cash and a weekly payment of $100 for an indefinite period if he would agree to drop the case.

One Is Indicted Twice.
Michael Windell, reported to be the same man who had an interest in the Madison saloon in Chicago where Assistant State's Attorney William McSwiggin was believed murdered; Henry McKenty, James Coyne and McGivney, who was also named in the murder true bill, are those charged with conspiracy. Windell and Coyne are the men said to have made the bribe offer to Brennan.

The situation was called to the attention of State's Attorney Swanson by the Chicago crime commission.

DURING the first eleven months of 1928, 141 advertisers each placed 5,000 or more lines of advertising exclusively in one of the six Chicago newspapers. And of this number—

Ninety-nine, or 70%, chose the Chicago Tribune to do their advertising job alone! And, of the 1,987,745 lines of exclusive advertising in all Chicago newspapers, the Tribune alone carried 1,414,833 lines, or 71%!

One reason—and one only—could induce ninety-nine seasoned advertisers in many lines of business—appealing to all levels of buying power—thus to concentrate their advertising. That one reason is results!

Tribune advertisers get greater results because the daily Tribune carries their advertising messages to 815,000 families—637,000 of them in metropolitan Chicago.

This means that advertising messages in the daily Tribune reach 61% of the families—practically the full buying power—in the vast Chicago market.

On Sunday, the Tribune carries sales messages to 1,248,000 families—760,000 in metropolitan Chicago. Here your advertising reaches 74% of the giant Chicago market—hundreds of thousands more homes than you could possibly reach with any other medium.

(Chicago Tribune Press Release)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—The United States court paved the way today for investigation which may ultimately result in the Standard Oil company's valuable holdings in the Elk Hills oil field in California. The court's ruling in an injunction suit filed by the District of Columbia to prevent an attempt to prevent the company from dissolving the land was dissolved. In its opinion, read by Judge J. M. Sweeney, the high court held that the company's title to the land, which was acquired by the company's predecessor, the Standard Oil Company, was not mineral bearing, and that the land in controversy was not mineral bearing. The land in controversy was adjacent to the Elk Hills oil field, which was reserved to the United States by the Doherty under a lease which was invalidated by a Supreme Court decision in 1925. The present proceeding was instituted in 1925, when Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, ordered investigation into charges that the company was known to be mineral bearing. The date of the survey, if the land was mineral bearing, the title would have legally passed to the company. The company's title was not questioned or recognized by the Supreme Court, and was upheld by the District of Appeals, that when the 1903 survey, the intent was to surrender its jurisdiction over the land and that Secretary of the Interior had no power to review the matter. ## RULING MAY COST STANDARD OIL ITS ELK HILLS LAND

U. S. High Court Paves
Way for Investigation.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—The United States Supreme court paved the way today for an investigation which may ultimately cost the Standard Oil company (California) its valuable holdings in the famous Elk Hills oil field in California. Under the court's ruling an injunction issued by the District of Columbia Supreme court to prevent an interior department probe of the company's claim to the land was dissolved.
In its opinion, read by Justice Brandeis, the high court held that Albert E. Fall, former secretary of the interior, acted without authority when he "yielded to the argument" of the company's lawyer and conceded that the company's title to the land, which had been disputed for years, was unassailable. The land in controversy is adjacent to the Elk Hills naval oil reserve which Fall turned over to E. L. Doherty under a lease which the Supreme court invalidated because the whole transaction, it said, was "shot through with fraud and corruption."
Outland Transfer was Illegal.
The land claimed by the Standard Oil company (California) is one of the sections which, under the law, if it was not mineral bearing, was turned over to the state of California by the government in aid of public schools. The present proceedings began in 1925, when Hubert Work, then secretary of the interior, ordered an investigation into charges that the land was known to be mineral bearing on Jan. 26, 1903, the date of the original survey. If the land was known to be mineral bearing the title could not have legally passed to the state of California because congress had specifically exempted mineral bearing land from the grant.
Reverses Lower Courts.
Dr. Work's investigation was a resumption of one originally started by former Secretary of the Interior John Barton Payne and halted by Fall, the latter's successor on June 9, 1921, after a series of hearings. The company contended that Fall's dismissal of the Payne investigation and his approval of the 1903 survey constituted a final determination of the character of the land and one which could not be questioned or reopened.
The District Supreme court ruled, and was upheld by the District Court of Appeals, that when Fall accepted the 1903 survey, the interior department surrendered its jurisdiction over the land and that Secretary Work had no power to review the action of Fall in the matter. An injunction permanently restraining Dr. Work and later his successor, Secretary Roy O. West, from prosecuting the inquiry was issued.

PUSCINELLI, ONCE HELD FOR KILLING, IS SEIZED BY DRY

Attilio Puscinelli, a grocer at 228 West Harrison street, twice indicted and once tried for murder, was seized by federal dry agents commanded by Deputy Administrator Hurlbert yesterday when they found 900 quarts of home brew and 13 barrels of wine in his place.
At the South State Street Police station Puscinelli was identified as the man who was acquitted in February, 1923, of the murder of Policeman Tim Harrington of the Marquette station, who died after being thrown over a stairway while trying to quiet Puscinelli and some friends at a dance in the Robert Emmett Memorial hall, 2179 Ogden avenue.

In December, 1923, Puscinelli was again arrested and charged with manslaughter after running over a pedestrian, Nick Constantino, 629 South Racine avenue, whom he struck with his automobile.

Elmer Hears Hours of Good Music on Air

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There were hours of good music and entertainment on the air last evening, but there were not many programs having unusual features or otherwise possessing reviewing qualities.

Miss Mary Garden in "Sapho" and the attending grand opera combination of rich, impressive music at the Auditorium, through KTW and WGN, 9 to 10, will be something of a column to turn to in Edward Moore's column this morning.

Miss Olive Palmer, soprano, on the New York orchestra and vocal program through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9:30, was to her usual high standard. However, my favorite on this program was the vocal quintet.

Around 7 o'clock I made a visit to W-G-N's studios for the first time in years. There are three studios, large, roomy ones. All three were being used for the broadcasting of the station's 7 to 8 "floorwalker" program.

In one studio [No. 3] Jean Goldkette and his W-G-N dance orchestra were stationed. When the orchestra was not broadcasting it was practicing. This orchestra didn't look like a dance orchestra at all, because there were too many players and instruments—no wonder it is able to give us such a flood of tones.

In studio No. 2 (up a flight of stairs) Gaston du Moulin and his W-G-N Symphony orchestra were stationed. Likewise, when not broadcasting it was practicing. This orchestra looked about half the size of a full sized symphony orchestra, and I thought it a wonderful sight. For I remember that until only a short time ago all our concert and dance music, came from hotel, dance or theater orchestras.

Among those at the church rites were John T. McCutcheon, Richard Henry Little, Bernard J. Mullany, vice president of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company; John Hertz, head of the Yellow Cab company; Judge Keneaw M. Landis, Joseph Burke and Frank Comerford; Don Omer, head of the Chicago furriers; Henry Barrett Chamberlin of the Chicago crime commission; William G. Edens, vice president of the Central Trust company; Charles N. Wheeler of the Studebaker corporation; John P. Stege, deputy commissioner of police; Wendell Hall, radio star, and Hal M. Lytle, vice president of the Chicago Rapid Transit company.

As such a journalistic genius in his way as the best of the by-liners, Elmer Durkin was more than an employee on this Tribune. He was a tradition and an institution. Since the day he hired himself to the paper via telephone, on pretext of sending another "boy from the wall" where he was stationed at the telephone, his wit, his loyalty and his diligence had been a byword with the staff.

Jimmie and his gamblin grin are gone, but in the words of the Rev. William P. Dunne, who conducted the funeral service: "Friendship and love endure beyond the grave."

GOULD'S CASINO IN FRANCE FAILS TO GET LICENSE

NICE France, Jan. 2.—(P)—Frank Jay Gould's new $5,000,000 casino may become a white marble elephant on his hands. The gambler, widely advertised for Jan. 1, was called off at the last moment because the French government had not issued a license that would allow the little horses to run and play at the baccarat and other tables to proceed.

Hundreds of persons dressed in evening clothes, the women in their best fineries, waited outside the gates for several hours while 500 employees, including waiters, croupiers, cashiers, and managers, stood at their posts within. Then the opening suddenly was canceled and after further delay it was announced that the place was not ready.

Authority of the city council to operate what has been described as the most beautiful European casino was easily obtained. The difficulty apparently arose with the federal government as so serious to the welfare of the city that the mayor of Nice departed for Paris today to plead with the government grant a gambling license to Mr. Gould's establishment. ## HOLY MACKEREL! IF WE COULD BE LIKE YOU!

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—(P)—Mackerel must keep moving at a certain speed to remain alive, and salmon return not only to their native rivers to spawn, but seek out their birthplace in that stream, the biennial conference of the scientific division of the bureau of fisheries was told today.

Prof. F. G. Hall of Duke university said he had found that mackerel soon were asphyxiated when their forward motion ceases. This led to the conclusion that the mackerel's respiratory system could function only when the fish was moving forward through the water.

Experiments with 50,000 marked salmon released in the Klamath river in California revealed that after migrating to sea and reaching maturity they invariably returned to their native river to spawn, said Dr. J. O. Snyder of Stanford university. In no case, he said, were any of the marked fish found in any stream other than the Klamath or its tributaries.

U. S. INDUSTRY RESUMES FAST OUTPUT PACE

Business Opens Up for 1929 Trade.

BY O. A. MATHER.

With a record year of prosperity behind, American business started the new year with a rush and a roar yesterday. The big steel industry, which set new production records last year, resumed full blast following the chief holiday lull. The automobile industry jumped into high gear with the annual exhibitions of new models just ahead. The railroads were promised heavier traffic for the first quarter of this year than they received in the same period last year.

Steel mill operations now are around 85 per cent of capacity, and further expansion is expected this month. The United States Steel corporation is at about 87 per cent, compared with 74 per cent a year ago, while independent mills now are around 81 per cent, compared with 67 1/2 per cent at the beginning of 1928. The average for the whole industry a year ago was about 70 per cent.

Production Gain Seen.

"A gain in production is foreseen in spite of sustained activity throughout the final months of 1928, which brought an unprecedented total of 10,500,000 tons of ingots, surpassing the previous record in 1926 by over 7 per cent," the Iron Age says. "Current demands on the steel mills are reflected in greater pressure on blast furnaces. Pig iron production in October, November, and December was higher than in any preceding month in 1928. In no post-war year except 1922, during the recovery from the 1921 slump, has the last quarter held such a position."

"Among producers and consumers alike there is strong confidence that not only a good January but also an excellent first half year looms up," the Iron Trade says. "Automotive specifications already are expanding, and if the industry's record program materializes it will again dominate the steel markets. With building projects numerous, shipbuilding reviving, and large pipe lines maturing, steel makers believe they are about to pick up the pace of last year's record gain."

Some Adverse Items.

The big Chicago mail order concern is going into 1929 with new records behind and excellent prospects. Sears, Roebuck & Co. for 1928 reached $346,973,915, which beat the 1927 high mark by $54,046,658, or 15 1/2 per cent. December sales also set a high monthly record at $42,424,171, an increase of $7,948,590, or 23 per cent, over December, 1927.

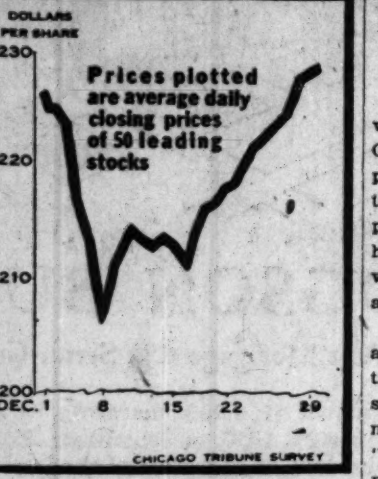

The new year opens, however, with a couple of adverse items to temper any unbridled enthusiasm. Overproduction in the petroleum industry continues despite efforts to remedy the situation by co-operation and hopes of oil men for better days. The daily average gross crude oil output last week totaled 2,581,000 barrels, an increase of 20,000 barrels a day over the preceding week, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

STOCK SPLITS, EXTRA, INCREASED DIVIDENDS FOR STOCKHOLDERS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Jan. 2.—Stock splits, increased and extra dividends and initial disbursements featured meetings of directors in a number of corporations today.

Plans for expansion of capital structure entailing the sale of $25,000,000 in 5 1/2 per cent convertible debentures, an increase in the dividend rate and a two for one split of the capital stock, were made known by the directors of the American International corporation. Shareholders will hold a special meeting Jan. 27 to vote on the recapitalization program.

Directors of the Kennecott Copper company have proposed a two for one split of stock. Their action follows a long period of great activity in the stock on the exchange here. The annual dividend rate on the 4,551,313 shares of no-par value capital stock outstanding is $8, payable today to holders of record Nov. 30.

The new common stock of the American Smelting and Refining company was placed on a $4 annual basis with the declaration of $1 quarterly. An extra cash disbursement of $4 a share was authorized by directors of the Apex Smelting company. Initial dividends of 25 cents on the common and 75 cents a share on the preferred stock were authorized by the directors of the Gripper Shoe company. The Mullins Manufacturing company declared an initial payment of $1.75 a share on the new preferred stock.

Chicago Rail Center—but Is Not Electrified

BY LEON STOLZ.

W. D. Bearce, speaking for the railway engineering department of the General Electric company, reports progress in 1928 and looks for further progress in 1929. The most important electrification project now in hand, he says, is that in Cleveland where 17 route miles are to be operated electrically within a short time.

"There now are under construction at the Erie works of the General Electric company, twenty-five 204 ton passenger locomotives rated at approximately 3,000 tons each," he notes.

"They will be required for handling passenger trains of the New York Central and other roads in and out of the Cleveland terminal. These locomotives will be capable of handling 1,275 ton trains over the electric zone at an unusually high schedule speed.

Will Purchase Current.

"Two substations will be used for direct current power supply, one containing three 3,000 kilowatt synchronous motor generator sets and the other containing two similar sets. Power will be purchased from the local power company. While the work being done at present is strictly a terminal electrification the system selected will permit further extensions on the main line of the New York Central at the same trolley voltage."

Meanwhile, Chicago gets nothing but pious remarks about the difficulties inherent in electrifying this terminal. Nothing is said about the value of the Chicago terminal and of Chicago business to the railroads. Railroad executives have no right to be astonished, then, if there is talk in this community of forcing electrification by legislation.

Wary of Long Delays.

There has been an unwillingness to permit the railroads to go about the job in their own way and without pressure, but the evidence is accumulating that the confidence was misplaced. Except for the Illinois Central, which is profiting handsomely and deservedly from the electrification of its suburban lines, nothing has been done to indicate that the Chicago terminals are ever to be modernized.

DENIES RIGHT OF STATES TO FIX GASOLINE PRICE

U.S. Court Sets Aside Tennessee Law.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—(AP)—States were held to be powerless to fix the price of gasoline by a ruling of the Supreme court today setting aside as invalid such a law in Tennessee.

The court asserted that it had repeatedly declared that a state legislature was without constitutional power to fix prices at which commodities may be sold, services rendered, or property used, unless the business or property involved was "affected with a public interest." Its opinion handed down by Justice Sutherland, to which Justice Holmes dissented, declared that gasoline is one of the ordinary commodities of trade, and that dealing in it, irrespective of its extent, does not affect it with a public interest.

What Tennessee Said.

The state of Tennessee had declared gasoline to be a public utility in view of its universal usage and its indispensability, with the object of meeting the previous decisions of the Supreme court regarding the fixing of commodity prices.

The claim that the price fixing law was warranted because the sale of gasoline in Tennessee was monopolized by certain dealers was not sustained by the facts, the court stated.

Pointing out that the statute had been drawn with a saving clause which provided it should not fall as a whole should any part be found unconstitutional, the court reached the conclusion that it was the purpose of the legislature in enacting the statute to fix the price of gasoline and that the entire act must fall.

Deny Unfair Practices.

The validity of the law was challenged by the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana and the Texas company. The state of Tennessee asserted that it had been the practice of the large oil producing companies to depress the retail prices until competition was removed and then jump up the prices to the injury of the consumer.

The oil companies denied the real practices, insisting that the real purpose of the legislation was not to benefit the ultimate consumer, but to keep in business middlemen who were being injured by the producing companies selling directly to filling stations and other retail dealers.

Income First The Investment Problem Created by Today's Market

TODAY'S most perplexing investment problem is how to secure a satisfactory income from invested funds. What is an investor these days going to do who must have the largest present income possible consistent with safety?

After the recent violent break in the market, the yield on the thirty Industrial Stocks in the Dow Jones averages was as low as 3.38%, and on the twenty Railroad Stocks was as little as 4.86%. Though the bond market has been sagging for some time, the yield on the forty Dow Jones listing of bonds was also but 4.86%.

Must the investor who cannot afford to wait for equities to grow rest content with such modest returns?

Barron's, The National Financial Weekly, undertakes to help solve the problem of this class of investor through a series of articles now appearing. The first of these articles shows how to obtain a 7.30% yield.

These articles are typical of the practical and important investment information appearing in Barron's continually. # Start Chicago Stocks Off Higher with the New Year

(Chicago stock list page 29.)

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Prices shot up in brisk trading in the first session of the new year on Chicago's stock exchange yesterday as call money eased to 10 per cent from a renewal rate of 12 per cent.

The movement was led by Pineau Winterfront, which soared 1 1/2 points to 187 1/2 in connection with reports of increased business and earnings. The plant is operating 24 hours a day.

The Pineau Winterfront company manufactures patented shutters for automobile radiators of both the automobile built in and detachable type. The company started as a partnership in 1914 and its history reveals an interesting narrative of modern business and science in Chicago closely allied with the automotive accessory industry.

Chance Meeting.

The company's beginning has to do with the chance meeting of three men. One, James M. Raleigh, now president of the corporation, owned a fifth floor walkup shop at Jackson boulevard and Clinton street in which he engaged in patent research. The other two were Charles Pippenhagen, chairman of the board but at that time a buyer for Hilbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., and Christopher Neilson, now chief engineer of the company, but at the start a garage mechanic for Joseph T. Ryerson & Sons, steel manufacturers.

Mr. Neilson walked into Mr. Raleigh's shop to seek help in working out his idea for an automobile shutter which would close automobile radiators in certain temperatures and prevent freezing. Mr. Pippenhagen was in the shop shortly afterward on some other business and took an interest in the work of Raleigh and Neilson. Raleigh and Pippenhagen became partners in a selling organization and Raleigh manufactured the product, which was named a "winterfront."

Finance the Company.

In 1924 the selling organization and factory were merged and the company financed to the extent of 50,000 shares of class "A" common stock and 50,000 shares of class "B" common, both of $5 par value. The "A" stock was issued and sold through a syndicate at $21.50 a share. The company's present plant at 404-24 North Sacramento boulevard has floor space of 78,000 square feet.

Earnings Statement.

The company's earnings statement for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1928, showed net of $405,151, or $4.05 a share, against $404,211, or $4.04 a share on the 50,000 shares of "A" stock outstanding. A dividend of $3 a share is paid on the "A" stock.

Wisconsin Parts was another feature of the automotive list with a gain of 8 points. Reports were again current in the street that the company will figure in the Borg-Warner expansion program. Borg-Warner sold up 4 1/2, and Galesburg-Coulter Disc advanced 1 1/2.

All American Mohawk led the radio group with a gain of 4 points. Atlas Stores directors are expected to meet this week to vote an increase in the annual dividend rate.

Ontario Manufacturing sold up more than 2 points on rumors that earnings for 1928 will show net of equal to more than $5 a share on the common stock. In 1927 the company earned $3.87 a share.

James S. Kirk Co. Hit in Olive Oil Soap Ruling

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—(AP)—The federal trade commission today ordered the James S. Kirk company (Chicago) to discontinue use of the names "candle" or "olive oil soap" for any soaps made from oil "which is not wholly derived from olives."

This action was condemned in a minority opinion filed by Commissioner William E. Humphrey, who quoted the trial examiner, E. M. Averill, in declaring that candle soap may be made from "tallow, coconut oil and olive oil, and various admixtures of these oils."

Thousands Respond to Ford Announcement

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Milling about the employment office of the Ford Motor company at Fordson, a crowd estimated by officials of the company at 32,000 men today responded to the announcement of the company that 30,000 additional men will be employed. The crowd was unwieldy and the employment office, which was to have opened at 8 a. m., remained closed until guards could form the men into a semblance of a line.

BY FRED HARVEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Jan. 2.—They banged the big drum and the new 1929 stock market did its stuff in a manner befitting the occasion today. At least twenty new highs were run up, a sprinkling of special favorites were skyrocketed for 15 or 20 points or more and the biggest turnover in more than three weeks—it was upward of $400,000,000—was recorded.

The majority of the active list was boosted into substantially higher ground. An auspicious opening for a new year!

Call money dropped 2 per cent after renewing at 12—not as much had been expected and hoped for, but enough to show that funds were beginning to flow back into speculative channels and collateral and time loans were quoted at 7 1/2 per cent.

The Good News.

Then there was a generous batch of good news to help the constructive forces of the market in the form of dividend actions, proposed splits, favorable steel trade reviews and another rise in the price of copper metal for domestic delivery. The situation looked good to the bulls and they cut loose with a bang aided and abetted by a large accumulation of buying orders from all parts of the country.

Many trading favorites opened well above the closing levels of Monday and continued to push forward throughout the session. Business was so heavy during the first two hours of trading that the ticker at one time fell a full thirty minutes behind, a situation not witnessed since volume sales were omitted at the height of the big Hoover market.

Three Old Favorites.

Three established favorites of the industrial district, General Electric, Radio and General Motors, assumed leadership of the advance. General Electric sprinted up to 24 1/4, a net

National Standard.

H. D. F. Kalamazoo, Mich.—The business of the National Standard company was started in 1907.

The company's principal products are wire braids, woven wire tapes and automobile tires as an integral part of the bead of straight side casings to give them the rigidity necessary to firmly hold the tire on the rim.

It also manufactures a line of garage equipment, wrecking cranes, creepers and jacks of various types.

For the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1928, it reported net income after taxes of $600,943, as compared with $704,134 for the preceding fiscal year.

This is equal to $4 a share on the 150,000 shares of no par capital stock in the latest year, compared with $4.69 a share the year before.

After paying dividends amounting to $450,000, there was a surplus of $150,943 for the latest year, compared with $254,134 for the preceding year.

Capital stock is carried on the balance sheet at $10 a share.

Profit and loss surplus is carried at $1,407,464 as of Sept. 30, 1928, compared with $1,255,520 as of Sept. 30, 1927.

Current assets amount to $1,817,897, and current liabilities to $144,803 at the end of the latest year.

This leaves net working capital of $1,403,394, which compares with $1,434,210 at the close of the year before.

Dividends are being paid at the annual rate of $3 a share, which rate has been maintained for the last two years.

The stock deserves a fairly good rating.

A periodical analysis of your investment holdings bears the same relation to successful investing that a merchant's inventory bears to successful merchandising.

At least once a year you should have some one, skilled in financial matters, carefully scrutinize your holdings—not alone to uncover possible weak spots, but also to reveal hidden sources of profit through the exchange of high-priced bonds for lower-priced ones, the exercise of valuable conversion features, etc.

We shall be pleased to attend to this for you, without charge on our part or obligation on yours.

SLIGHT UPTURN IN WHEAT; CORN CLOSES LOWER

Rye Unsettled; Oats Show
a Loss.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Closing of spreads between wheat and corn, the former being bought, resulted in a moderate uptick in prices, but the aggregate trade was not large, and the close was on a reaction from the top, with net gains of 1/4c. March wheat, 1.14 1/4@1.15 1/4, and May 1.13 1/4@1.14 1/4. Corn showed stubborn resistance to pressure, but was 1/4c lower at the last, with March, 87 1/4@87 3/4, and May, 90 1/4@90 3/4. Oats finished 1/4c lower to 1/2c higher, with March, 47 1/4, and May, 48 1/4. Rye was unsettled, with March 1/2c higher at 1.03 1/4, and May unchanged at 1.04 1/4. Local traders who have been bullish on wheat of late were on the buying side, covering shorts and the reaction was regarded as due more to a natural reaction than to any change in the general situation. Liverpool closed 1/4c lower, with increased pressure from Argentina. Buenos Aires, however, closed unchanged, with May 1.14, Winnipeg gained 1/4c for the day.

Italy Buys Durum.
The turn of the year failed to bring about the improvement expected in the foreign demand for cash wheat, and the seaboard reported only 200,000 to 300,000 bu sold in all positions, including some durum to Italy. The cold wave over the winter wheat belt attracted a little attention, but 1 to 6 inches of snow was reported over the greater part of the area, and the forecast suggested further snow.

Local operators were on the selling side of corn to close spreads with wheat, and prices averaged lower, although the dips brought in a good class of buyers. Rains were reported in northern Argentina late in the day, which will be highly beneficial, and Buenos Aires may close 1/4c lower at 80 1/4, while Rosario was 1/4c lower at 78 1/4. Cables from the continent indicated that the demand for American corn would improve in the immediate future, although no business was claimed during the day.

Country Offerings Small.
Cold weather over the belt failed to increase country offerings of corn to any great extent, although purchases of 32,000 bu were made. The bulk of the offerings were held 1/4c above buyers' views. Local handlers sold 20,000 bu to go to the seaboard for export. Oats prices held within narrow limits, with commission houses buying early, but the market eased later in the inside figure of the day. No export business was reported.

Saved by a Sense of Humor.

We were taking inventory at the office. My duty was to type the articles written in longhand. The writing was hardly legible. I studied over the words, trying to make sense out of them, but failed; so finally, in desperation, called my boss, who, I was sure, would be able to decipher them.

I asked him if he could read the handwriting of some one who really should be in second grade, learning to write. I said I couldn't imagine who wrote it as I didn't think we had anybody so dumb working for our company.

Imagine my embarrassment when he laughingly informed me that he was responsible for the writing! Thank goodness, he has a keen sense of humor.

FARM and GARDEN BY FRANK HIGGINS

Home gardeners who like to grow their own cut flowers want a wider range of varieties of hardy chrysanthemums here in the colder part of the United States. More varieties would do much to encourage the growing of "mums" in open home gardens in states around the great lakes. Here varieties are needed that will bloom fairly early and live in the flower garden during winter.

Up in Minnesota plant breeders have developed a chrysanthemum that bears a profusion of blossoms early in the season. It is a cross between hardy varieties and early ones and seems to be hardy and dependable whether grown under glass or in the open garden.

The "mum" is so new that it has not yet been named. It still carries the number, 39, given to it by the men who developed it. Growers who have studied this new flower at the university farm, where it was produced, praise it highly and urge that it be given a permanent name. It bears large clusters of pinkish blossoms, which vary in size and are well separated. It has a striking white when it opens out against the dark green foliage.

Louis Sando, who directed the breeding work, says that the stalks are stout and are strong, growing from the base of the plant. The new plants have lived for several winters in Minnesota, where the cold has proved their hardiness. No. 39 is only one of a group of several "mums" that are making a good showing in Minnesota where the winter temperatures go very low.

Josephine Munro Wedding Ceremony Is Bright

BY THALIA

Miss Josephine Munro and Mr. Charles Munro made a dainty bride and groom in the ceremony of their marriage yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Herbert's.

The bride's voluminous gown was of a delicate point lace. She carried a prayer book on her way and a long spray of white daisies on her return.

The church, which was crowded, was decorated with pink roses, white candles, and southern and northern blue. The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Eleanor Denehy, Miss Mary Eleanor Denehy, Miss Mary Eleanor Denehy, and Miss Mary Eleanor Denehy, were pale green frocks of the maid of honor, pale green and carried like bouquets of white roses. The bridesmaids were an ensemble of brooches with red fox, and the groom wore a burgundy velvet. The music was furnished by the St. Ignace choir, which followed the bride and groom to the altar.

Large parchment folders with fancy scrollery bearing the names of the guests, the names of the bride and groom, and the names of the bridesmaids, were placed on the altar. The guests were seated in the church, and the ceremony was a most beautiful one.

The ceremony was a most beautiful one, and the guests were seated in the church. The bride and groom were married by the Rev. Father, and the ceremony was a most beautiful one.

Is the House More Important Than the Children in It?

By Lolita

"Mother do you know what I think?" said a little girl to her mother not long ago when she came home from playing with a little friend. "I think Mrs. Brown cares more for her house than she does for her children. She just scolds and scolds if we do anything that makes even the slightest bit of dirt, or move things around or anything."

"How different from this mother who writes: 'I must tell you what the children are doing while I write this little letter to you. My big boy, who wants to be a minister, has his club meeting in the front room and they are all gathered around the piano singing. I couldn't tell you how many times that piano has been mortgaged in the last twenty years—I'm so glad I never sold it.'

"The younger children are in the kitchen playing with their friends—sometimes they make candy. Our home has always been a kind of community home—and if my sugar jar is empty, the neighbor children bring their sugar with them."

"I can't understand how people can park their children in a show and be satisfied. I want mine with me; then I know where they are."

"Last winter four boys came to my door with a big black rabbit. They all had a share in it and wanted to know how to divide it. Of course I said, 'Come right in and clean it and keep it here.' I turned them loose in the kitchen."

"Of course, that was the best black rabbit I ever tasted! And my kitchen floor was wet with snow, but I felt more than repaid when one big boy said to my boy, 'gee, I wish I had a ma like yours.'"

"Life is just as full as you make it. If you love young folks you have everlasting life."

And this from a woman who is not fortunate in any worldly sense, who has to bring up her family alone, who has a husband and one son incurably ill, who has struggled for over twenty years against the heaviest odds. She has those things before her which obstacles melt away—an ideal of what a home should be and an unconquerable determination to fulfill it.

Young George burst into the house one day, crying bitterly. When his mother asked him what was wrong he replied between sobs: "Heil of the Wagner Treaty hit me." A. C. H.

Joe, the 5 year old, had been a department store window decorated with candles just before Christmas. When his mother asked him what he had seen, he answered, "I saw a whole lot of the kind of brown that the Wise Men ride on." T. E.

LATIN POWER
SIGN PROTOCOL
AVERTING WAR

Bolivia-Paraguay
Strife Ends

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Threatened war between Bolivia and Paraguay was averted tonight when representatives of the two South American nations formally signed a protocol of conditions under which their very will be submitted to arbitration.

The agreement called for a suspension of the dispute to a commission of nine judges and the immediate cessation of all hostilities. The success of the Pan-American conference in persuading the nations to sign the protocol marked the third major step toward the goal of permanent peace among the American nations. At earlier meetings, important matters approved new obligations of arbitration and arbitration described to be the broadest and complete ever established hemisphere.

Arbitration Compulsory. The arbitration treaty, after conference approval by the commission today, binds the contracting parties to submit all jurisdictional disputes to arbitration when diplomatic effective. Only two types of disputes involving domestic and those affecting the interests of third parties, are excluded from arbitration. All nations will be required to file reservations, however. The conciliation convention described as the most liberal established in any part of the world. As approved by the committee for final signature by the two nations attending the conference provided for conciliation of all threatening to end in war. Most important provisions signed to make war impossible between Latin American nations prior to ten months after a dispute begins.

Kellogg, Hughes Preside. The protocol, ending the period of further hostilities in the Chaco, was signed at the Pan-American union in the presence of Secretary of State Frank B. Rowland, Charles Evans Hughes, and the delegates attending the conference.

Dies de Medina, minister of foreign affairs of Bolivia, and Juan Vicente Ramirez, minister of foreign affairs of Paraguay, affixed their signatures to the treaty.

Broad smiles replaced the anxiety on the faces of Washington officials and other members of the conference as the Bolivian and Paraguayan representatives finished the steps necessary to end the long-standing dispute. The signing of the protocol was hailed as the first step toward the breaking out of fighting in the Chaco just as the conference was preparing to work out a permanent future peace.

"Mr. Delegate of Paraguay," said Mr. Kellogg in congratulating them, "I express the sentiment of all of the conference when I say that you have taken a very much pleased and noble step upon the high path of peace which you have taken in this conference."

Offers Congratulations. "We congratulate you on their desire to maintain peace and to carry out the policies of the American conference that peace and good will shall reign throughout the western hemisphere."

"We congratulate you on this momentous occasion where you have avoided a conflict which might have been disastrous to your countries as well as to the peace of the South American continent. You have great spirit of peace and good will which I know will have a great influence throughout all South America."

Owing to the last minute refusal of Brazil to accept a place on the commission, her place was taken by Chile. Of the nine commissioners, two will be selected by Bolivia, two by Paraguay, and one each by the United States, Mexico, Uruguay, Cuba, and Argentina. Argentina was originally named a member on the commission but refused to be appointed to the conference.

Agree to End Hostilities. Under the terms of the protocol, the governments of Bolivia and Paraguay agreed to suspend hostilities and to stop all concentrations of troops at the points of contact. The commission will turn its findings to the nations. The commission will act only in connection with the Vangueria incident as a dispute will be made to settle boundary dispute.
